

PARK BOND ISSUE DEFEATED, 4,418 TO 2,360 VOTES; NEW ALDERMAN AND SIX NEW COUNCILMEN NAMED

Japan Tackles Huge Task of Rebuilding

ISLAND PROGRESS BACK TEN YEARS, LOSS 50 BILLIONS

Greatest Disaster in World Annals Stands Revealed as Veil of Silence Lifts.

LIGHTS GLEAM OUT AS TOKIO REVIVES

First Direct Word From Stricken Capital Is of Horrors in Ruined Yokohama.

BY UNITED NEWS.

As the veil of mystery lifts from devastated areas of Japan, the full tragedy is gradually revealed as one of the greatest in the history of the world.

Earthquake, wave and fire have claimed a death toll which may reach a quarter of a million, the biggest in the annals of world disasters. Property loss in Tokyo alone is estimated at $10,000,000,000 according to an Osaka dispatch, and probably totals from $30,000,000,000 to $50,000,000,000 throughout the islands.

Financial circles predict that the Japanese people "have been set back a decade." Shipyards, foundries, mills have gone. Banks and exchanges are ruined, stocks, bonds, deeds, wills and records are destroyed. The whole complex, intricate machinery of Japan's modern civilization is damaged.

But ready hands are at the task of rebuilding.

In Tokyo street lamps are beginning to shine again in spots. Broken water mains are being repaired. A refugee who walked 120 miles to the Tomioka wireless station to bring the story to the outside world "took a train" back to Tokyo, according to cable from Peking. Communication has been re-established between Tokyo and Yokohama. Ambassador Woods reports from Tokyo.

These dispatches indicate that conditions are slowly being restored to a semblance of order in the devastated zone.

TOKIO DEATH TOLL, 15,000, PRIVATE CABLE.

New York, September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—One hundred thousand persons were maimed and injured in Tokyo by the recent earthquake and 15,000 killed, said a private cable message received today by Charles Henry Cheney, of Cheney Bros., silk manufacturers, from Japan. The message added that Yokohama no longer existed but that the city of Nagoya, previously reported destroyed, probably had been saved.

YOKOHAMA CHARNEL HOUSE IS ADVICE FROM TOKIO.

Tokio, September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Yokohama is a charnel house, the canals and waterfront are filled with dead and the stench from decomposing bodies is unbearable, according to refugees arriving from the stricken city today. It is estimated that more than 200 foreigners lost their lives there.

Most of the dead and injured among
Continued on Page 7, Column 2.

GET ALL YOU CAN

That may sound a bit selfish; what is meant is, that when you pay out your money for merchandise, you ought to try to get all the value possible. It isn't selfishness; it's good sense.

The want ad columns of The Constitution offer a multitude of bargains every day. It will surprise you to know how much value—how much you can get for your money—in the great array of offerings in the want ad columns.

Read them day by day.

WANT AD DEPT.

The

Atlanta Constitution

Phone Main 5000

"Atlanta's Best Want Ad Service"

ROYALISTS PLAN COUP IN FRANCE, CLAIMS PETROVA

New York, September 5.—Mme.
Olga Petrova, the actress, said today on her arrival on the steamship Olympic from Paris that the movement for a royalist revolution in France is being widely discussed in Paris. Many of her friends, she said, believed France would return to a monarchial government.

PINCHOT PARLEYS MAY BEAR FRUIT AND END STRIKE

Miners and Operators
Join in Moderating Previous "Best Offers" in Dispute.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM CONCESSIONS MADE

All Spokesmen Keep Silence Pending Final Outcome of Coal Conferences.

Harrisburg, Pa., September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Representatives of anthracite miners, operators and officers of the miners' union today agreed in conference with Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania to material changes in positions which they have hitherto held, and which have resulted in suspension of mining. The employers' group tentatively abandoned its demand for arbitration, which the union has unyieldingly opposed.

Miner union officials definitely accepted the 10 per cent wage increase which Governor Pinchot tendered in an effort to compromise the dispute, but asked more than that amount for day laborers employed in and around the mines. They did, however, agree to modify the demand for a "check off" of union dues, by limiting the amount which could be collected by it from individual miners.

Both the employers' group and the union committee, which met with Governor Pinchot in executive sessions, regarding their alteration of original stands as concessions. The governor, while keeping silent as to the proposals involved, said that "progress had been made" and that the statements had been exchanged by him between the parties concerned.

Unions Seek Hikes.

Though the employers agreed to drop, for the time being, the demand for arbitration, and to make a one year contract covering wages and working conditions, they were said to be entirely unwilling to grant more than a ten per cent wage increase.
While Governor Pinchot suggested this figure as a compromise when he first embarked on his peace efforts, the union group today was still seeking to get the amount increased so far as day workers are concerned. The day workers number about 100,000 out of the total approximately 155,000 in the industry.

Pending the resumption of negotiations, none of the spokesmen on either side had a definite opinion to express as to whether an actual basis for settling the strike had been worked out.
The employers were unwilling to take even a limited application of the "check-off" system according to expressions available, while the union leaders expressed determination to obtain the wage increase for the day men or continue the suspension.

FINE SHIP OPERATORS $200 PER IMMIGRANT

Washington, September 5.—Two thousand immigrants who were rushed to New York before midnight September 1 in order to beat the barrier on the immigration quota for that month, were ordered admitted today in a decision by the commissioner general of immigration, but fines of $200 for each of them were ordered imposed on the steamship companies.

Winners in Primary Race for General Council

Top row, left to right: Edward H. Inman, winner in race for council from eighth ward; S. A. Wardlaw, next councilman from first; Thomas L. Slappey, successful in second ward council race; Dr. Carl Aven, who defeated Councilman Fred Woodall in third ward. Bottom row: Dr. P. L. Moon, who won in second ward aldermanic race; J. A. White, who defeated Claude L. Ashley for fourth ward councilman; W. C. Jenkins, next councilman from seventh, and Oscar Williamson, who won close aldermanic race in ninth ward. Photo of Aven by Stephenson.

J. Y. SMITH IS HIT AT HOWARD RALLY

J. O. Wood Scores Solon for Attempt to Railroad
Police Bill — Speakers Commend Howard.

John Y. Smith, member of the Georgia House of Representatives from Fulton county, was declared to be "either an imbecile or a crook," by J. O. Wood, another member of the Fulton delegation in the state assembly, who was one of the speakers at a meeting held at the auditorium last night for the purpose of expressing confidence in Judge G. H.
Howard, recently appointed to the Fulton superior court bench. A number of speakers, including Representative Wood, J. Q. Nolan and others, severely criticized the Atlanta Bar association for its endorsement of charges brought against Judge Howard by Attorney Edgar Latham and commended him for his action in refusing to appear before a committee of that body which was investigating the said charges.

It will be recalled that the bar association, at a meeting held last Friday,

Miss Atlanta Is Greeted As "The Rose of Dixie"

BY LOYD WILHOIT.
City Editor, Constitution.

Atlantic City, N. J., September 5.
(Special.)—Hailed as "The Rose of Dixie," and greeted by cheers upon her every public appearance, Miss Frances Thayer, 17-year-old blonde beauty who is cast in the role of "Miss Atlanta," in the National Beauty Tournament here, today took a prominent part in the official opening of the program.

Tonight on the flamboyant garden pier she made her initial public appearance before the judges in a crystalbeaded turquoise blue crepe de chine evening gown, and her introduction to the monster audience brought forth a storm of applause. The occasion was for the selection of the most beautiful girl in evening gown, but the decision will not be announced until Friday night, when all prizes will be awarded. "Miss Atlanta" is centering all her efforts toward winning the prize as "Miss America" in the bathing revue Friday.

This morning she made a tour of the boardwalk shops and did some final shopping, and this afternoon she took part with a hundred other inter-city beauties in the gorgeous reception to King Neptune in a magnificently ornamented barge the pagan ruler landed at one of the great piers and was greeted by the beauty court of Atlantic City and the competing beauties.

Naval destroyers were on hand and fired a mighty salute to Neptune and the beauties, and a crowd estimated at 20,000 lined the shore and the piers in tightly-packed masses.

Atlantic City and Philadelphia papers are devoting prominent space to "Miss Atlanta" and her appealing southern beauty. This Morning's Press carried a double column account of the triumphal march of "Dixie Rose Sweeps In Triumph Accross Continent" and her photographs appeared in local and Philadelphia papers with thinly-veiled warnings to northern and eastern beauties to beware of "The Georgia Peach" as a dark horse.

ATLANTA GAINS 10,000 PEOPLE

School Records Indicate
This Increase Since
Close of Session in June, Declares Registrar.

Bona fide evidence of the rapid growth of Atlanta's population during the last three months, which has exceeded 6,000 people, was revealed Wednesday by M. E. Coleman, registrar of the Atlanta public schools, in checking over the number of new students enrolled for the approaching term of school beginning Monday.

More than 200 families with an average of four children each, have migrated to Atlanta recently and enrolled during the first three days of this week. Last week 142 families were added to the lists and the average during vacation season, June, July and August, was 50 families per week.

10,000 Additions.

This number represents only about one-half of the actual families which have moved to Atlanta during the last three months, according to Mr. Coleman, who estimated that approximately

LEAGUE TOTTERS AS ROME DENIES POWER TO PROBE

Italy's Refusal to Recognize Competency Im-perils Peace of All Europe.

MUSSOLINI DEMANDS TRIAL BY AMBASSADORS

Fascist Leader Says
Greeks Have Cleverly Turned Forces From Basis of Dispute.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Geneva, September 5.—The superstructure of the League of Nations, of which an American president was the chief architect, is imperilled, and in the British view the very foundations of present day Europe are shaken.
Such, briefly, is a summary of the situation at Geneva tonight because of Italy's refusal to recognize the right of the League of Nations to intervene in her dispute with Greece.

Consternation and a deal of sadness prevailed everywhere, for it is generally, though reluctantly, admitted that the league has been unable to withstand the first great test of its practical use as machinery for regulating difficulties between nations, since one of its leading members has declined to concede its competence.
Hence there is a growing sentiment among the smaller countries that, if the league covenant applies to them, it apparently does not bind the great powers of Europe.

Deem Organ Too Minor.

All the more do they feel convinced of this because the proportions which the Italian and Greek conflict has taken are deemed by them unjustified by the original cause of the controversy, serious and regrettable as was the murder of the Italian officers.

The hope is not abandoned; there are stout hearts among the statesmen of the half hundred countries represented at Geneva who, believers in the league and in the ideal of conciliation and arbitration which the league voices, refuse to accept that action of any member, powerful or weak, can succeed in ruining the league as a power for good.

Signor Salandra's entire argument today was that the questions arising from the assassination of the Italian mission should be settled by the council of ambassadors, and not by the league, because it was the ambassadorial body, which had appointed the mission to fix the frontier between Albania and Greece. That body was the living organism of the great peace conference and was empowered with the execution of the terms of the treaties.

Assails Greek Cleverness.

The head of the Italian delegation accused Greece of "cleverly seeking to escape her responsibility and of diverting world attention from the murder of the Italian officers to Italy's seizure of Corfu, by denouncing this seizure as an act of dangerous aggression."

It was not Signor Salandra, but Mussolini who seemed to be addressing the council of the league today at its dramatic session. As the good-natured appearing former premier read his fateful message the crowded council chamber thought to hear in fancy the voice of Salandra but that of his fascist chief and leader who has suddenly loomed up on the stage of Europe.

"No state would wish to belong to the league," read Signor Salan-dra, "if membership meant renunciation of the right to defend its national dignity."

"Italy had no measured world peace and there was not sufficient reason for the application of the articles of the covenant cited by Greece, which
Continued on Page 4, Column 3.

MOON, M'LENDON AND WILLIAMSON NAMED ALDERMEN

These Nominees Friendly to Administration;
2 New Councilmen Win
on Opposing Platforms.

RUNOVER MAY DECIDE RACE IN FIFTH WARD

Advocates of Park Bonds Say That They Will Continue Fight for Playgrounds for Children.

The $2,000,000 park bond issue was decisively defeated in the bond election and one new alderman and six new councilmen were elected in the democratic white primary Wednesday in which there were eleven contests for sixteen offices which will become vacant by expiration of terms on January 1.

The vote against park bonds was 4,418 to 2,360 and the only ward in which a constitutional majority of two-thirds was polled in favor of the issue was in the sixth ward, where it had been proposed to locate the $900,000 central park.

Friendly to Administration.

Three aldermen, all friendly to the Sims administration, were nominated
—Dr. P. L. Moon, former councilman from the second ward, who will take the seat to be made vacant by the retirement of Dr. A. H. Cochran, J.
L. McLendon, present alderman from the sixth ward, and Oscar Williamson, present alderman from the ninth ward.

Two of the new members of council, Dr. Carl C. Aven from the Third ward, and Leo Sudderth, from the Eleventh ward, were nominated on platforms which indicated that they were not in sympathy with the city administration. The other nominees were S. A. Wardlaw, incumbent, from the First ward; Thomas L. Slappey, new member, from the Second ward;
J. A. White, new member from the Fourth ward; Dr. L. P. Baker, unopposed incumbent, from the Sixth ward; W. C. Jenkins, incumbent, from the Seventh ward; Edward H. Inman, new member, from the Eighth ward;
Horace Russell, unopposed incumbent from Ninth ward; T. Frank Calla-way, unopposed incumbent from Tenth ward; Leo Sudderth, new member from the Eleventh ward, and J. M.
House, unopposed new member from the Twelfth ward.

Dr. Moon Is Winner.

Dr. P. Leonard Moon defeated Dr.
W. B. Lingo for alderman from the Second ward by a total vote of 3,993 to 2,152, according to complete but unofficial returns to The Constitution
Wednesday night.

Other complete but unofficial returns show that J. L. McLendon, incumbent, had defeated Claude L.
Barnwell for alderman from the Sixth ward by a total vote of 3,759 to 3,279, and that Oscar Williamson, incumbent, had defeated Dr. L. N. Huff for alderman from the Ninth ward by a vote of 3,574 to 3,522.

Wardlaw Is Winner.

S. A. Wardlaw, incumbent, had defeated Fred Morris for first ward
Continued on Page 10, Column 4.

The Weather GENERALLY FAIR

Washington—Forecast:
Georgia—Generally fair Thursday;
Friday partly cloudy, probably thunderstorms.

Local Weather Report.

Highest temperature ..... 88
Lowest temperature ..... 73
Mean temperature ..... 80
Normal temperature ..... 74
Rainfall in past 24 hours, inches ..... 0
Deficiency since 1st of month, in ..... 2.7
Excess since January 1st, in ..... 2.7

Dry temperature .. T. m. N. T. p.

Dry temperature ..... 74 85 82

Wet bulb ..... 70 72 73

Relative humidity ..... 80 75 62

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations.

STATIONS	Temperature.	Rain.
AND STATE OF WEATHER	T. m. High	24 hrs.
Atlanta, clear	74 83	0.00
Birmingham, pt. cloudy	82 90	0.00
Indianapolis, clear	82 90	0.00
Portland, clear	82 90	0.00
Charleston, pt. cloudy	80 90	0.00
Chicago, clear	78 86	0.00
Denver, cloudy	72 82	0.00
Des Moines, cloudy	80 84	0.00
Galveston, cloudy	78 80	0.00
Hatteras, cloudy	78 84	0.00
Haver, clear	68 80	0.00
Jacksonville, clear	82 92	0.00
Kansas City, cloudy	70 80	0.00
Memphis, cloudy	78 80	0.00
St. Louis, clear	82 88	0.00
St. Paul, clear	82 86	0.00
Montgomery, pt. cloudy	84 90	0.00
New Orleans, pt. cloudy	82 90	0.00
New York, clear	78 80	0.00
North Platte, clear	72 80	0.00
Philadelphia, pt. cloudy	78 80	0.00
Pittsburg, pt. cloudy	70 80	0.00
Raleigh, rain	78 80	0.00
San Francisco, clear	78 80	0.00
St. Louis, rain	72 80	0.00
Salt Lake City, clear	82 84	0.00
Shreveport, cloudy	74 84	0.00
Tampa, clear	82 82	0.00
Toledo, clear	78 82	0.00
Vicksburg, cloudy	78 84	0.00
Washington, cloudy	74 78	0.00

C. F. VON HERMANN,
Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

Tabulated Results of Park Bonds and Aldermanic Contests

	1		2		3		4		5		6		7		8		9		10		11		12		TOTAL REGIS- TRATION
	A	B	A	B	A	B	A	B	A	B	A	B	A	B	A	B	A	B	A	B	A	B	A	B
FOR BONDS.....	35	5	129	38	212	49	174	25	79	61	192	113	108	33	587	34	118	200	20	44	19	27	20	38	2,360
AGAINST BONDS.....	56	7	295	80	627	284	219	42	262	186	114	62	332	180	477	88	212	235	85	175	171	155	23	51	4,418
ALDERMAN.....
2ND WARD LINGO.....	40	...	212	56	346	186	187	93	217	115	102	75	187	107	468	93	159	167	27	68	111	99	38	...	3,153
6TH WARD MOON.....	43	...	289	75	542	252	180	93	143	155	168	95	291	135	611	37	159	261	76	156	99	91	47	...	3,993
7TH WARD BARNWELL.....	36	...	210	55	390	203	182	78	102	167	93	105	214	107	367	98	127	275	27	99	126	94	34	...	3,279
9TH WARD McLENDON.....	47	...	262	67	485	226	191	104	164	92	169	71	265	122	710	39	182	146	76	119	83	97	48	...	3,756
12TH WARD HUFF.....	54	...	282	78	471	284	152	93	229	201	120	98	258	110	258	96	107	157	53	128	140	104	34	...	3,522
15TH WARD WILLIAMSON.....	31	...	213	48	447	159	223	91	132	64	147	79	229	136	707	33	217	284	66	92	70	86	50	...	3,574

There's a ROGERS Store near you
ROGERS
 Where Satisfaction is a Certainty

OUR TWO Extra Specials FOR TODAY

10-ounce can Baker's
Blue Label Cocoanut
 Regular 16c Seller
13c

This is an excellent cocoanut in milk—so near like fresh cocoanut you can hardly tell the difference. Makes delicious pies, cakes, custards and puddings. At this reduced price you can buy seven cans for the price of six and still save five cents—a saving worth considering.

ARM and HAMMER BRAND
SODA
 The old reliable—used for years and years
3 1/2c

A Special Sale This Week on HEINZ' OVEN-BAKED BEANS

We have always saved you money on Heinz Goods but this week we are saving you more than ever

Don't be satisfied with buying one or two or three cans. Buy an assortment today of a dozen or more cans. They are always ready on a moment's notice—always delicious and appetizing as a complete luncheon or as an entree.

Heinz Oven-Baked Pork and Beans
 (Boston Style)

Heinz Baked Beans in Tomato Sauce
 (without meat)

Heinz Baked Beans in Tomato Sauce
 (with Pork)

11-ounce—Small 10c 14c
 18-ounce—Large

Heinz Oven-Baked Red Kidney Beans
 10 1/2-ounce 11c 16c
 17 1/2-ounce

Heinz Table Vinegar
 Made from the pure juice of fresh apples

Pints 22c Quarts 34c

A Car Load Just Received of

PARIS PEAS

Delicious, smallest, sifted, extra fine Peas.
 No. 2 can—1 pound, 4 ounces
39c

This car will not last long. There's always a big demand for these peas when they first come in. There's never enough for the demand—so you'd better buy a half dozen—or a dozen cans.

1/2 doz. $2.34 One doz. $4.65
 cans. . . . .

There's a ROGERS Store near you
ROGERS
 Where Satisfaction is a Certainty

DEAF AND LAME CURES CLAIMED AT REVIVAL

Testifying she had been cured of deafness of many years standing through the prayers of Evangelist F. P. Bosworth, Mrs. Mary Harwell, of 187 Simpson street told the large audience at the Gospel tabernacle Wednesday night she could "hear perfectly."

Mrs. A. B. Wood, of 538 Crew street, who had to be helped to mount the platform, and had to use a cane to aid her in walking, marched down the platform with the cane over her shoulder, declaring she had been cured of a rheumatic attack that had made her suffer for years, after the evangelist had prayed for her.

Evangelist Bosworth will again immerse candidates for baptism tonight. A special healing service was held Wednesday morning for the benefit of those who were unable to attend the regular evening service. When the invitation was given the number that responded was so large that the spacious choir gallery was filled and the evangelist and his brother continued their ministrations until 1 o'clock.

Evangelist Bosworth spoke at a night service on "The Origin of a Christian," another sermon in his series upon the person and work of the Holy Spirit.

LIFE SENTENCE UPHELD

Rozier Pleads Unwritten Law in Vain.

By a decision handed down Wednesday by the Georgia supreme court, E. J. Rozier, of Coffee county, must serve a life sentence following conviction for the murder of John Mobley, a citizen of that county. Rozier, who is a veteran of the world war, based his defense upon the unwritten law, but the court held that the verdict of the lower court was sustained by the evidence in the case.

HAVE YOU SETTLED THE SCHOOL QUESTION?

Here's How Leading Men and Educators Settle It.

If I were a young man or woman and had my choice, to graduate from a literary college and stop there, or to graduate from a business college and stop there, I would take the business college. —Ex-Governor Porter.

The drill, information and education I received in the business college I count as having the greatest practical value of any I ever received. —Hon. L. J. Gage, ex-treasurer United States.

Without a thorough and practical business education a business man (or woman) is like a ship at sea without compass or rudder. —Hon. W. T. Harris, ex-Com. Education, U. S. If a father wishes to give his son or daughter a legacy better than houses, lands, silver or gold, let him give them a practical business education. —Horace Mann.

Several hundred new students are now entering Bryan-Hatton for a fall course. That's all.

Bryan-Hatton Business College
 164 Whitehall, Ivy 8757, Atlanta, Ga.

DR. GODWIN'S
 One Price Dental Office
 $5 First class work at reasonable prices. Teeth extracted painless. Dr. Godwin personally in charge.
 7 1/2 W. MITCHELL
 Between Broad and Whitehall MAIN 2975

ASK for Horlick's
 The ORIGINAL Malted Milk
 Safe Milk and Malt Grain Ext. in powder, makes The Food-Drink for All Ages
 Avoid Imitations—Substitutes

BUEHLER BROS.
 We Have Big Meat Bargains Every Day. Watch Our Windows.
 We Sell for Less and Give the Best

STEAK . . . 14c
TENDER STEAK . . . 10c
 Brooks County Hams . . . 20c
 Picnic Hams . . . 15c
 Fresh Spareribs . . . 10c
 Beef Roast . . . 8c
 Fancy Chuck Roast . . . 8c
 Pork Chops . . . 25c
 Pot Roast . . . 8c

BUEHLER BROS.
 15 W. ALABAMA ST. 35 N. PRYOR ST.

Andy Gump Given Big Majorities In City Election

Hon. Andrew Gump, president of the Hairbrush Mirror Corporation, was elected by an overwhelming majority in all the wards in which he was a candidate. In fact, five of the wards gave Andy a seat by acclamation. It is the Hon. Gump's intention to occupy all five. "If the people want me, I must obey," he said Wednesday night.

"The voice of the people is the voice of God," he remarked with a pious glance at Min, who was by his side behind the big mahogany desk in the spacious office of the new company recently organized.

Tears of gratitude stood in the great statesman's eyes as he received a bulletin after bulletin from friends and admirers. A cablegram from Bimbo Gump, the Australian billionaire, read as follows: "Herewith my draft for $25,000 to defray expenses of the campaign. Accept my congratulations and best wishes. Give the people honest, sound government. Give them what they expect from a man who bears the ancient and honorable name of Gump. Regards to Chester and to your adorable spouse." Bimbo.

As the election results became known a great crowd assembled outside the office. There were calls for Andy and finally, dressed in his well known campaign outfit, he appeared on the balcony of the first story. Ovation after ovation greeted him. Andy's chest swelled with justified pride. The band played Dixie and bouquets and roses started to fly upwards.

"Fellow citizens," began the great patriot after the din and cheering had subsided somewhat. "You have again honored me. Faithful as ever to my trust I will carry out your mandate. When I get through with those cheap politicians and grafters they will think they have passed through a planing mill. There are no half measures with a Gump. You all know that. Give me the chance and I will turn this city into a second Garden of Eden."

"I am especially honored by the large vote cast for me by the ladies of Atlanta. The women with their unfailing instinct while they see a real man's man. Far be it from me to boast, but I congratulate you ladies on your excellent choice. My endeavor will be to lower the height of living and to pass laws forbidding husbands to be on the streets of Atlanta after 8 o'clock at night."

"When the stenographer came up, Min withdrew. There was a hasty exchange of glances between the two women, which did not escape the Argus-eye of the great promoter. Interviewed by a representative of The Constitution, Andrew unhesitatingly himself in the following way: "It was a great fight while it lasted and the best man won. I am not saying there are no other good men in this city, but then you can't beat a man with the prestige of business ability and leadership."

"You may tell the people who helped me to get into council that from now on Atlanta is going to have a business administration unexcelled on the American continent. I am still 100 per cent for the people and you may tell the chumps who opposed me that they may as well leave town, for I am going to fight them as I never fought before."

REQUISITION PAPERS ISSUED FOR MILLER

Requisition papers were issued Wednesday at the office of Governor Clifford Walker for E. H. Miller, of Thomson, charged with assault with intent to murder John Wall, a citizen of Thomson. Miller is reported to be at Plum Branch, S. C., and the necessary papers were forwarded to the governor of South Carolina on request of George Hains, solicitor general for the Augusta district.

Governor Walker also offered two rewards of $250 each Wednesday, one for the arrest and conviction of Willie Eason, charged with the killing of Alvin Goolsby, at Monticello, and the other for the arrest of Virge Johnson, life term convict, who recently made his escape from the chain gang in Union county.

Too Ill to Leave Bed

Thomson, Ga., September 5.—E. H. Miller, for whom Governor Walker has asked requisition, is at Plum Branch, S. C., and too ill to leave his bed according to his attorney, who told Judge A. L. Franklin in superior court here this afternoon that their client was suffering with malarial fever. The judge granted a postponement, but would not agree to a continuance, the postponement only being temporary. Miller is charged with assault with intent to murder, it being alleged that he shot at John C. Wall, a merchant of this place, on last July 21.

C. F. Evans, southern general field secretary for Christian Endeavor, who is in Atlanta for the junior convention to be held at the First Christian church on September 8, will speak both at Druid Hills and Inman park on Sunday night at the regular Christian Endeavor meeting. At the opening exercises he will speak to the Endeavor of Druid Hills, while at the latter part of the service he will be at Inman park.

Mrs. Frances Holden is in charge of the arrangements of the Inman Park society and Mrs. C. C. Calloway will be in charge of Druid Hills. Mr. Evans will also conduct the evening service at Inman park for Rev. J. E. Hixson, pastor.

$3,000,000 PLANT PLANNED AT PERRY

Perry, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—The Clinchfield Portland Cement corporation, of Kingsport, Tenn., closed a deal today with W. E. Culbert in which he transfers all his land options on land, lime, cement and machinery he holds and is operating near Perry on the Georgia Southern & Florida Railway company.

A large plant for the manufacture of cement and other lime products with a capacity of four thousand barrels a day will be erected by the purchasers at a cost of approximately $3,000,000.

The growing demand for cement all over the country by reason of the diminishing supply of timber for building purposes and the increased use of cement in the construction of roads opens up a great demand for the use of limestone.

Houston county has an almost unlimited supply of limestone of the finest quality for the making of cement and no doubt in the near future other companies will establish plants in the territory which extends across the county from east to west near Perry.

RED CROSS MEMBERS TENDERED LUNCHEON

Members of the executive committee of the Atlanta chapter American Red Cross will be entertained at a luncheon Monday, September 10, at 1 o'clock in the cafeteria of the Coca-Cola company, Plum street. The members will be guests of Turner Jones.

SUMMER RAIL RATES TO BE DISCONTINUED

The Tallulah Falls railway has filed its annual petition with the state public service commission for authority to discontinue its summer schedule of trains. When the petition is granted, which is merely a matter of form, special summer holiday schedules over this road will stop and the line will revert to its winter schedule of one train a day in each direction.

GLOBE SPRINKLERS
 THE AUTOMATIC FIREMEN

Taxation without representation

Fire costs in America total a billion dollars a year. That's an annual per capita tax of ten dollars imposed upon us all by the indifference of a few. Safeguard your property against fire losses. GLOBE Automatic Sprinklers furnish UNFAILING protection. GLOBE AUTOMATIC SPRINKLER CO., Forsyth Building, Atlanta, Ga.

The famous plant of the Philip Carey Mfg. Co., Cincinnati, O., is protected by GLOBE Sprinklers.

THEY PAY FOR THEMSELVES

I. C. MOORE HEADS DISABLED VETERANS

By a unanimous vote of Atlanta chapter No. 1 Disabled American Veterans of the World War, J. C. Moore, Georgia Tech rehabilitation student, was Tuesday night chosen commander of the chapter to succeed H. A. White, who left for Nashville Sunday. Mr. Moore held the office of senior vice commander at the time of his election.

His place will be filled by A. Harbert, who was adjutant until a few months ago.

Plans for the third annual "Forget-Me-Not" drive, which will be held in November, were discussed at the meeting.

"I suppose it was her money that got Mrs. Newrich into society," "That and tact," "Tact?" "Yes. She always lost at bridge."—Boston Transcript.

A cork 200 feet below the surface of the water will not rise again owing to pressure of water.

EXCURSION
 Saturday, Sept. 8
 Savannah . . . . . $6.50
 Jacksonville . . . . . $8.00
 Central of Georgia Ry.

BUILDS STURDY HEALTH
Days for Outdoor Sports—and Bread

September's golden days and muscle-building-out-of-doors activities call insistently for more nutritious food.

For all people—all the time—good bread has no equal in bone, muscle and tissue building qualities. All the elements of balanced diet are there.

Merita Cinnamon Buns
 A delicious Cinnamon Bun—
 Try a box for breakfast and for children's school day lunch.
 8 for 10c

Merita the best bread
AMERICAN BAKERIES COMPANY

BIG SAVINGS ON SHELNUTT'S SEASONABLE QUALITY GOODS

2-Day Bargain Event MID-WEEK SPECIALS! Today and Friday

Ladies' Silk DRESSES! Just 32 in the lot—fine Taffetas, Crepes and Georgettes—new styles, beautifully made. Young misses going away to school will need several of these. Sizes 16 to 42. Special for today and Friday only— Actual Values to $30 $8.95 Second Floor	Ladies' Stylish SKIRTS! Just 75 of these smart Skirts, of fine Baronets and Silk Poplins; newest styles and every imaginable color. These beautiful Skirts are exceptional in quality and workmanship. Special for today and Friday only— Values Up to $12.50 $1.95 Second Floor	Ladies' White Silk HOSIERY! 350 pairs of ladies' pure thread Silk Hosiery in white only. All sizes 8 1/4 to 10 1/2. Some out sizes in the lot. You should buy these by the dozen. Special for today and Friday only— Three Pairs for $1.00 Main Floor
--	--	--

Children's School DRESSES! 600 of these children's splendid School Dresses in 14 different styles, beautifully made—trimmed—Ginghams, Crepes, Chambrays and Pebble Cloth. Sizes 6 to 14. Special for today and Friday only— Your Choice for $1.00 Second Floor	Ladies' White SLIPPERS! 125 pairs in the lot—ladies' White Canvas Strap Pumps and Oxfords, including Regent sport-trimmed Keds. To be closed out today and Friday— Values Up to $5.00 $1.00 Main Floor	Children's and Misses' SLIPPERS! 150 pairs in this lot—children's and misses' 1-strap Pumps and Oxfords, low heels, brown and black, guaranteed solid leather, Goodyear welts; sizes from 8 1/4 to 2. Special today and Friday only— Values Up to $3.00 $1.00 Main Floor
---	--	--

Boys' Brown Sport-Trim TENNIS SHOES Sizes up to 8. Just the thing for boys from beginning of school until cold weather; special . . . . . 95c
---

Just In Time For School BOYS' SUITS Boys' All-Wool 2-Pants Suits, sizes 7 to 17. Real $10.00. Sizes 6 value; special . . . . . $7.95	SHEETING! Smooth finish, fine count, unbleached Sheeting, 40 inches wide; good quality; special today and Friday, per yard . . . 10c
--	--

South 33 Broad Street	J. B. Shelnett Co.	South 33 Broad Street
------------------------------	---------------------------	------------------------------

MAIL CLERKS HOLD BARBECUE AT PARK

Delegates to the National Railway Mail Clerks' convention here were entertained Wednesday night at a barbecue and dance given at Lakewood park, completing the second day's session of the association which was featured by a memorial service for deceased members of the organization and reading of committee reports. Members of the woman's auxiliary to the association were entertained Wednesday at noon at the Atlanta Woman's club with a luncheon, where they were the guests of the local body.

An address by W. M. Collins, president of the association, featured the afternoon session held on the Hotel Ansley roof. He pointed out the accomplishments of the railway mail men in the past, especially during the World war, and forecast a future of service for members of the group.

At the memorial service, held in the morning, under the direction of Dr. S. R. Beck, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church, Peter J. Schardt, of New York, formerly president and superintendent of the postoffice department of the American Expeditionary Forces in France during the war, praised the men for their "ever increasing efficiency." He related several occurrences of interest during his incumbency as head of the department in the war area.

Approximately 500 delegates are here for the convention which will continue through Friday. All sessions of the association are being held on the Ansley roof, while the auxiliary meetings are held in the pine room of the hotel.

CLOUDY SKIES FORECAST

Unsettled Weather With Even Temperatures.

Partly cloudy with unsettled weather to continue for the next 36 hours was the prediction for today of Meteorologist C. F. von Herrmann, weather forecaster. Temperatures are expected to remain about the same as have been prevalent during the last few days, the forecaster stated. No perceptible change in the weather is expected to be experienced during the next 36 hours.

Sentence of Year Given to Husband In Shooting Case

Sam Sims, charged with shooting J. B. Phillips in a Peters street altercation on July 26, Wednesday entered a plea of guilty in Fulton superior court, and after recommendation by Solicitor John A. Boykin that he be given a light sentence, was sentenced to the chain gang for one year.

Sims was charged with assault with intent to murder. He is said to have shot Phillips as the latter stood in front of his place on Peters street, after a quarrel during which Sims charged Peters with paying attention to Mrs. Sims.

The solicitor recommended leniency on the grounds that Sims is believed to have been mentally unbalanced at the time of the occurrence.

Fifth Ward Citizens Will Discuss Police And School Issues

Alleged lack of cooperation between the chief of police and police commission, the wrangle over expenditure of school bond money between the administration and the board of education, and other school matters, will be discussed at a meeting of the fifth ward civic club at 8 o'clock tonight in the auditorium of the English Avenue school. Members of city council, police commissioners and members of the board of education have been invited to attend the session.

At least five representatives from each civic club in Atlanta are wanted at the meeting, as matters of vital importance to the entire city will be discussed, J. E. Bowden, president of the fifth ward body announced.

MISS HELEN TOLLE DIES AT HOME HERE

Miss Helen Tolle, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tolle, of 1145 Peachtree, died suddenly Wednesday morning from a heart attack. The young girl attended Washington Seminary last year.

She is survived by her parents and a younger sister, Marian.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon from her home. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

PHILADELPHIA ELECTION OF PAUL SEABROOK

Election of Paul E. Seabrook as mayor of Savannah was declared legal by the supreme court of Georgia in decisions handed down Wednesday on two appeals taken by the Murray Stewart forces which met defeat in the January 9 election.

Murray Stewart had defeated Seabrook for nomination in the democratic primary and Judge Seabrook entered again as a candidate in the general election. Two official ballots prepared by the city clerk of Savannah under the Stewart administration bore only the name of Stewart. Judge Seabrook's candidacy was ignored in preparing the ballot on the ground that an insufficient number of voters' names had been signed to the petition to authorize his candidacy as an independent. At the polls Seabrook supporters scratched. Mayor Stewart's name and wrote in the name of Seabrook in sufficient numbers to elect him.

The Stewart forces on January 12, three days after the election, brought a writ of mandamus against the election managers to compel them to recount the ballots and to exclude all those cast for Seabrook on the ground that the official ballot had been illegally effaced in writing in Judge Seabrook's name and on the further ground that he had not been legally qualified as a candidate. Judge Dickerson in Chatham superior court refused to grant the mandamus and the Stewart forces thereupon appealed the case to the supreme court on a bill of exceptions. The court's decision Wednesday sustained Judge Dickerson and Seabrook's election.

The other decision of the court was in upholding Judge Dickerson's refusal of an ancillary petition to compel the board of election canvassers to cancel the returns on which Judge Seabrook was declared elected.

Judge Atkinson, of the supreme court, wrote the decision. Chief Justice Russell alone dissented.

Little Interest in Savannah. Savannah, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—So long a time has elapsed since the hottest municipal campaign ever waged in Savannah was concluded in a court contest last January that the news was mildly received here today of the decision of the supreme court in favor of the administration in power, that of Judge Paul E. Seabrook.

Both sides declared it was "what they expected."

Chief interest centered in the effect, if any, the ruling will have upon future elections in Savannah, which are held under special local acts. Some authorities declare the decision ends for the time being the spirit of a white primary; while others declare that the same great majority which, ignoring all precedent and all rules, swept the present administration into power can make whatever rules are necessary to govern local primaries.

Mayor Seabrook when apprised of the decision said:

"The decision removes the last existing doubt about the recent election and there is no reason now why we cannot get together in a spirit of harmony and good will for the betterment of our fair city."

"In my heart of hearts, I feel like shaking hands with all the citizens and asking them to get in step in order to put Savannah in the fore, where she belongs. There is no impediment to the now existing citizenry divided politically, and this decision, I pray, can be obliterated and Savannah progress as a united city."

"I bear no political ill will toward anyone, and I trust the feeling is the same toward me. It should be thus for Savannah."

NEW WEEVIL DANGER Tomato Pest Threatening Crop in South.

A preliminary account of the Australian tomato weevil, a new insect recently discovered in the south, has been issued by the United States department of agriculture. While the insect is credited with favoring the potato and tomato as food, it is stated, it also is a rather general feeder.

The department expresses the opinion that the pest may become of great importance, like the sweet potato weevil, unless measures are taken for its suppression.

"As to control measures, much remains to be learned," according to a statement of the department. "In confinement, lead arsenate sprayed on tomatoes killed all the beetles within twenty-four hours. Reports of the successful use of lead arsenate in practical field work with potatoes and turnips have been received by the department. Applications of spray for other insects, when the beetles or larvae of the tomato weevil are present, it is believed, may control the tomato weevil also. Calcium arsenate would probably be equally effective as a dust or spray and a little cheaper than lead arsenate."

SALARY RAISE ILLEGAL High Court Fixes Judge's Pay at $350 Month.

Under a decision handed down by the Georgia supreme court Wednesday, Judge Garland H. Watkins, of the juvenile court in Fulton county, will receive a monthly salary of $350 for the remainder of his term, instead of $450, as granted by the judge of the Fulton superior court last September.

The court held that the Fulton judges had no authority to make this raise in salary during the term of the judge and that the reason given for the advance, that the salary was not commensurate with the work done, was not sufficient ground.

The ruling declared that Judge John D. Humphries, of the Fulton superior court, erred in issuing a mandate directed against County Treasurer Hubert E. Culbertson, instructing him to pay the higher salary after Mr. Culbertson had refused to recognize the action of the judges in ordering it.

NEGRO BOUND OVER IN RING THEFT CASE

Prophet Johnson, negro butler, was bound over to superior court under $1,000 bond by Recorder George E. Johnson Wednesday in connection with the theft of a diamond ring valued at $1,000.

The ring was stolen, detectives claim, from the home of Mrs. C. C. Hatcher, 63 Peachtree circle, where the negro was employed. It was taken from a window sill in the home, Mrs. Hatcher stated.

DELIGHTFUL SEA TRIP Clyde Steamship Steamed from Charleston to New York every Sunday, Tuesday and Friday.

Low excursion fares, choice going via steamer and returning via rail. The direct differential freight route between Atlanta and the east. Phone Georgia R. R. Passenger, Walnut 2726. Freight, Main 5727.

PEABODY BALTIMORE, MD. The Leading Endowed Musical Conservatory in the Country.

Scholarships. Operate training. Tuition in all grades and branches. Circulars mailed.

News for Today--2nd Day of High's Special 10 Days' September Selling Campaign

Extra! Today Only!

Mr. J. E. Collier, Mgr. High's Hosiery Department, Offers

1,500 Pairs Women's Regular $1 and $1.25 Silk Stockings

73¢

Here's where every high school miss, every business woman, every teacher and every housewife should avail herself of the opportunity to buy a full season's supply of silk stockings with little feet and garter tops. Come in black, white, fog, beige, brown, castor, taupe, gray, rust, dark brown, blue, etc. Every pair perfect. Our standard $1 and $1.25 pair qualities at 73¢.

See These in Our Window

For Wear With Her New Dress

Fall Gloves---Less

Suppose you shop about town and see what 12-button French kid gloves will cost you. Nowhere less than $4.95. Here today at $3.95. And with them three other fine offerings of fashionable fall gloves at pronounced savings.

Gloves, $1.19

Kayser's 12 and 16-button length chamollette gloves, in black, white, gray, mode, brown, coffee, beaver and beige.

Gloves, $1.59

Six-button gauntlets of fine quality French kid suede with buckles and fancy cuffs in cut-out work. Mode, beaver, tan and gray.

Gloves, $3.39

Fancy strap six-button length kid gloves with novelty cuffs. In various color combinations. These are imported.

Gloves, $3.95

Fine quality French kid gloves in 12 and 16-button lengths. Black, pearl, mode, beaver, dark gray, brown, and other colors.

In the Housewares Section

Newness at High's

Breakfast Sets ..... $8.95

This Is Special!

Transparent china sets of 31 pieces in four different patterns, one of which we picture. Six breakfast plates, cups, saucers, bread and butter plates and cereal bowls, and one large cake plate.

Ornaments ..... 75¢ to $15

Art pottery bird ornaments which have just reached us from Japan. Included are blue birds, yellow birds, parrots, ravens, black birds and other birds in true nature colorings with a lustrous glass finish.

Tea Sets ..... $9.95

This Is Special!

Awaja ware tea sets of 23 pieces from Japan. Consist of six each, cups, saucers and plates, tea pot, sugar bowl and creamer. In plain colors, tangerine, jade blue, fuchsia and wine. Special, $9.95.

Frames ..... 50¢ to $3.50

Easel back picture frames in gilt, bronze and other finishes. Single and double frames with glass. They are substantially made and come in sizes to hold all photographs. Prices range from 50¢ up to $3.50.

Bud Vases ..... $1 Pr.

Of crystal clear glass with deep cut floral designs. The bases are of plain colored glass—several different colors, 11 inches high.

Lusterware ..... 95¢ up
Lusterware vases and handled baskets. In a variety of shapes and sizes suitable as ornaments for buffet, mantel or living room table. These ornaments are 95¢ up to $3.95.

Thank the Special Ten Days' Selling Campaign for the Low Price of These

Beaded Silk Dresses

$24.75

One Would Expect Them to Be Marked Much Higher

They're dresses that will delight the hard-to-please woman. Dresses that will appeal to the woman who loves smart style. Dresses that will satisfy the woman who is looking for quality. In fact, these are dresses that will have a charm for practically every woman who sees them.

Two Styles are Sketched Here

and they're typical of these charming frocks.

The sketches give you some idea of the charm of the styling of them, but they give you no hint of the beauty and the quality of the silks in them.

They're fashioned of good, weighty Canton crepe, satin-faced crepe, Georgette crepe and novelty satin crepes. Some of them have loose panel, some have skirts laid in fine knife pleats in front, some have yokes of beading. There are many lovely styles to choose from.

- Transparent beads
- Cut bronze beads
- Cut steel beads
- Black beads
- Navy beads
- Vari-color beads

50c to 75c Stamped Pillow Cases, For 39c

Pillow cases of heavy grade tubing, 42 and 45 inches in width. Some are stamped for scalloping at the ends; others are hemstitched ready for attaching crocheted edge. Ordinarily these pillow cases would be priced 50c and 75c instead of 39c.

Half Price for These! $1.98 Dimity Blouses at 99c

Fresh and crisp and dainty. And they're exactly what college misses are wanting to pack into their wardrobe trunks, they're what business women want for wear with their trim tailored suits, and they're what sportswomen want to wear with their colorful sweaters!

Several dainty styles to choose from. Of fine quality dimity in stripes or checks. Little round colored affairs that button in front or back. Long sleeves with turn-back cuffs. Now, 99c.

A List of September Savings on

Household Linens

All of this is merchandise from our regular stocks on which we have taken mark-downs for Thursday—second day of the Special Ten Days' September Selling Campaign.

- 75c lace trimmed 54-inch scarfs ..... 50c
- $1.25 filet scarfs, 54-inch size ..... 89c
- 15c toweling crash, 17 inches wide ..... 11c
- $1.58 huck towels, 16x32-inch. Doz. .... $1.20
- $1.39 cotton damask napkins, 15x15-inch. .... 98c
- $2.50 colored table cloths, 64-inch ..... $2.29
- $3.29 colored table cloths, 72-inch ..... $2.98

Here's Where the Seamstress Saves!

Cotton Materials

Women who sew for their families will be glad to get these materials that fit in so nicely with their plans for fall. All come from our regular stocks at reductions.

- 21c gingham, 27 inches in width. Yard. .... 18c
- 25c gingham, 27 inches in width. Yard. .... 22c
- 40c striped shirting madras, 32-inch ..... 36c
- $2.39 10-yd. bolts bird's eye, 24-inch ..... $1.98
- $3.50 Jap nainsook, 39-inch, 10 yards. .... $2.95
- $4.50 Jap nainsook, 40-inch, 10 yards. .... $3.95
- 15c brown domestic in short lengths, 36 inches in width. Yard ..... 10c

High's
Phone Main 1061 Whitehall and Hunter Streets

How One Man Built a Fortune

Up in New York State an old gentleman died the other day. The obituary notices did not print many striking facts about him—he was merely a good citizen, quiet and retiring, who had long ago withdrawn from the business activities of his community. Yet this man left a fortune running well into six figures—a surprising sum, considering his restricted opportunities. We happen to know that he practiced a very simple formula for accumulating a fortune:

- First: He invested in nothing that was not safe—hence he suffered no losses.
- Second: He bought chiefly first mortgage securities backed by real estate, realizing that such securities pay a higher rate of interest than is generally obtainable elsewhere with equal safety.
- Third: He reinvested a large part of the interest he received, thereby compounding his money at a rapid rate.

This man had been one of our customers for years. Much of his fortune was invested through us. His success is a striking example of what can actually be accomplished through persistent investment in Miller Bonds, paying up to 7%. To anyone who is interested in this safe and sure method of accumulating money (which, by the way, works far more swiftly than most people imagine), we will gladly send a booklet of information called "Creating Good Investments." Just tear out this advertisement, write your name and address on it, and mail it to us. Let us suggest that you do this before you turn this page—otherwise you may forget it entirely.

G. L. MILLER & CO.

1701 HURT BUILDING
ATLANTA, GA.
Telephone: Walnut 3904
New York, Buffalo, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Memphis, Knoxville.

VENUS PENCILS

The largest selling quality pencil in the world.

All perfect for every purpose—as soft as you wish; as hard as you please; but always smoother than you had dreamed.

17 Black degrees (with or without eraser)
Also 3 copying

American Lead Pencil Co.
220 Fifth Ave., New York

Write for booklet on pencils, penholders, erasers, VENUS Everpointed and VENUS Thin Leads

MRS. CHERRY'S SCHOOL

943 Highland Avenue
OPENS THE TWENTIETH YEAR SEPTEMBER 10
Departments from Primary through Senior High School Music, Expression, Art. Individual Instruction. Strong Faculty
HEM. 5673

MRS. CAMPBELL'S SCHOOL

536 Spring Street—Near Fourth Street
Opens September 10
A thorough, practical school with modern equipment in beautiful residence section. Prepares the child to 6th grade of public school. Small classes and individual instruction. Special attention given to beginners. A mother's care and home training given to a limited number of boarding pupils.
MRS. A. H. CAMPBELL, Principal

Dogs of War Ready to Slip Leash in Balkans

VIEW OF HARBOR OF CORFU, NOW DOMINATED BY ITALIAN FLEET

ITALIAN DREADNAUGHT "CONTI DI CAVALLO," UNLEASHING BIG GUNS WHICH SOON MAY BE TRAINED ON ATHENS

KING VICTOR EMANUEL REVIEWS INFANTRY. ARROW INDICATES KING

Map of Italy, the Adriatic region and Greece, showing (1) course Italian fleet may take en route from Taranto to Athens (2) and the Piraeus for a threatened naval demonstration. (3) and (4) Show routes from Otranto and Brindisi, Italian bases, to Greek coast. (5) is boundary between Albania and Greece, dispute over which has led to assassinations of five Italian commissioners. (6) Yania, Greek city, near which assassinations took place. (7) Sarajevo, scene of the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand of Austria in 1914, which led to the world war. Insets show Premiers Gonatas, Greece, left, and Mussolini, Italy.

NATIVE GREEKS IN THEIR MOUNTAIN FASTNESSES

to the dispute to declare the league's incompetency.

"If such a point of view was admitted," asserted the Greek spokesman, "it would mean the definite ruin of the pact of the league and of the international organism which the pact of the league has created, because it would always be possible to pretend for one reason or another that the pact did not apply to the actions which are parties to the dispute and also that a nation interpreted the pact differently and that consequently the league's organism would not operate."

"This would mean that the league was not to operate for the maintenance of peace," said M. Politis, but merely a kind of official body, effective only "when" two parties had reached an accord."

In his address M. Politis declared that the Italian seizure of Corfu was entirely unjustified because Italy already possessed double assurances which were sufficient guarantees—one was the council of ambassadors and the other the league of nations.

Signor Salandra, in the course of his address, said: "The brutal assassination of the Italian mission on Greek territory was not only a flagrant violation of the rules of international law for which Italy has a right and a duty to require just punishment, compensation and moral reparation, but also an offense without precedent against the council of ambassadors which had entrusted the international mission with the difficult and delicate duty of fixing the frontier between Albania and Greece."

"Though the right of Italy is not dependent on the right of the council of ambassadors, the connection between the violation of each of these rights is so evident that Greece has not denied that it exists. General Tullini and his companions were assassinated because they formed part of an international mission. There is thus a perfect parallel of the interest of the conference and the interest of Italy."

"The assassins, however, chose these officers for their victims because they were Italians. Violations of the sanctity of human life, which Italy must guarantee to her citizens and an offense to the dignity and honor of the Italian nation, consequently are added to the violation of international law."

"After the council of ambassadors has well understood that this terrible crime could not remain unpunished and if the news which has been published is correct, Greece has recognized its responsibility by declaring that it will submit to the decisions of the council, Italy, whose rights have been more seriously offended than those of the conference, has on her side the punishment of the guilty and moral and material compensation."

"In order to secure execution by Greece of her obligations, Italy has felt obliged to take guarantees which are all the more necessary as the instability and inferior moral position of the Greek government which has not been recognized by a large number of states and its present attitude could not insure the confidence which alone would have rendered such a guarantee superfluous in the circumstances."

"Greece, with great skill, has endeavored to escape its responsibilities by turning the attention of the public and of the league of nations away from the crime that has been committed and by endeavoring to direct attention to the seizure of a guarantee."

SECURE UNJUSTIFIED.

BELOUG TO BACK STAND OF BRITISH.

Geneva, September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The first observation made by each member of the council of ambassadors when it met today to consider the Greco-Italian dispute was to say that he had no instructions from the government.

It was agreed that this being so, the council for the present should follow the established principle of diplomacy and nothing today that could be postponed until tomorrow.

The ambassadors examined the Greek reply to its note at their meeting in the foreign office this morning and paid particular attention to the Greek stipulation that the Athens government was prepared to make any reparations the council of ambassadors regarded as just and another stipulation proposing that a commission of inquiry be appointed composed of the three powers on the Albanian boundary mission.

At the meeting were Lord Crewe, the British ambassador, Jules Cambon, general secretary to the French foreign office; Baron Romano Avezano, the Italian ambassador and the Japanese chargé d'affaires.

Sheldon Whitehouse of the American embassy acted as the unofficial American observer. He took no part in the discussion except to remark that it was a principle of international law that states were responsible for crimes and political attacks upon their territory and that the method of inquiry in the Janina affair should be studied.

The council will meet again Friday. In the meantime the secretary was directed to inform the secretary-general of the league of nations of the proceedings of the council of ambassadors.

the perfect and mayor of Argiro Castro, the dispatch continues. The officials were surprised at the "branded" familiarity with the Greek troops. They later heard about twenty rifle shots, which were later led to believe, were intended to call the assassins together. The perfect and mayor are of the opinion, the correspondent adds, that the Greek soldiers asked the assistance of Marku in the commission of the crime.

ARREST TWO WITNESSES TO MURDER OF ITALIANS.

Athens, September 5.—According to a report received here from Janina, two more alleged witnesses of the killing of the Italian members of the Greco-Albanian boundary commission have been arrested. It was asserted that all the evidence obtained thus far indicates that the murderers made their escape into Albanian territory.

TWO HOLES OF HOPE FOUND IN DEFIANCE.

Geneva, September 5.—Some of the delegates found consolation and hope in two of Signor Salandra's statements today before the league council.

The first was that the league should not wait until the council of ambassadors had completed its investigation; the second that Italy did not wish to run counter to the legitimate prerogatives and authority of the league.

The developments today are regarded generally as bringing the league fight into the open, with England on one side, insisting upon respect for the league, and Italy refusing to abide by covenants to which she had subscribed. Lord Robert Cecil declared that the issue would be aired in the assembly, Viscount Ishi, who presided at today's meeting of the council, made a conciliatory suggestion, recommending that Greece's latest proposals be taken up by the ambassadors.

The underlying idea is that the situation may be saved by the league and the council of ambassadors collaborating.

"Stand by the league guns to defend the league," was the slogan often heard tonight. Several of the delegates added:

"Let Italy leave; the league can continue without her."

WANTED

Experienced Ladies' Shoe Salesmen

Splendid money-making opportunity to efficient and courteous men. Must have thorough experience. Good chance to connect with successful store and get ahead.

MR. C. E. HADAWAY, MANAGER

CHANDLER'S
Boot Shop

GUN CREW OF GREEK WAR VESSEL

LEAGUE MISSION HAS WORLD HOPES

New York, September 5.—(United News.)—Declaring that "the great forces of the world are behind the league of nations," ex-governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, in a statement issued here Wednesday night spoke out for the pro-league forces in the United States in the Greco-Italian crisis.

"If the league moves with dignified decision," Cox declared, it will revive the flames of idealism, which preserved civilization once."

"The duty of the league of nations is so patent that it seems a waste of words to discuss the question of competency, whether or intended. Nothing in the whole covenant is more important than the provision that any member nation shall have the right to report any eventualities that threaten its own national integrity for the peace of the world and that the league shall take such action as the circumstances demand. It is the prime prevention against aggression, and justice, and the measure devised for the safety of nations and the peace of mankind."

If any country, held a signatory to the treaty, seize territory under the guise of action in behalf of its national honor, and refuse thereby to be bound by its own agreement to withhold military offensive until arbitration has failed, it becomes an outlaw in the international view, and the only organization to offer restraint is the league. Adoption of the suggested reference to the international court, or to the council of ambassadors, whether or intended, not, would impair the very base stone of the league."

"The great moral forces of the world are behind the league, and even though that body is impaired by our non-membership, it can by the exercise of its powers, save peace and save itself at the same time."

"It must not be forgotten that in this country at least, war would be preferable with certain groups of partisans, to peace under the auspices of the league."

"If the league moves with dignified decision, pointing the way to justice, it will revive the flames of idealism which preserved civilization once, and will do so again."

VERSAILLES TREATY BASE OF TROUBLE, CHARGE.

Montreal, September 5.—Had Europe known when the Versailles treaty was being drafted that the United States intended staying out of her affairs "many matters which have caused endless trouble in the world might have been spared, it was declared tonight by the Earl of Bessborough, former lord chancellor of England, in an address before the Canadian Bar association.

Lord Bessborough declared he was ready to back up the speech he made at Westminster before the institute of politics in which he said America was not ready for the idealism of former President Wilson so far as his idea of a League of Nations was concerned.

Tanker Believed Lost.

Panama, September 5.—It is feared that the British tanker J. A. Bostwick, owned by West Indian Oil companies, has been lost at sea. No word has been received from the vessel since she left Balboa for Los Angeles on July 12. She was of 5,800 tons register.

Missing Couple Found Murdered Beside Their Car

Beaumont, Texas, September 5.—The bodies of Bessie Carl, 16, of Houston, and P. O. Rial, shipping clerk, of this city, today were found near the spot where their car was found abandoned yesterday. The couple had been missing since Saturday night when they disappeared after attending a moving picture show.

A bullet hole in the young man's skull and a fracture in the girl's skull caused officers to advance the theory that the couple had been murdered. The bodies were lying face upward a short distance from the road when found.

Prince of Wales To Rough It a Bit As Ordinary Peer

London, September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Prince of Wales left London today for the great open spaces of his Canadian ranch, traveling as Lord Renfrew, just a plain peer, as his highness is going away to rough it a bit.

None of the members of his family went to the Waterloo station to bid him goodbye, for royalty does not offer ceremonious farewells to a mere peer. He drove to the station alone, not as the prince, who sets fashion for what the well-dressed men will wear, but just as a young nobleman, in a grey overcoat which shows its age.

He wore a pair of heavy shoes that were poorly polished and a comfortable slouch hat, stained by sun and rain and dirt. There was not one uniform, not a top hat in his traveling bag. It was the first time in his life, perhaps, that he was able to make a trip without ceremonious habiliments.

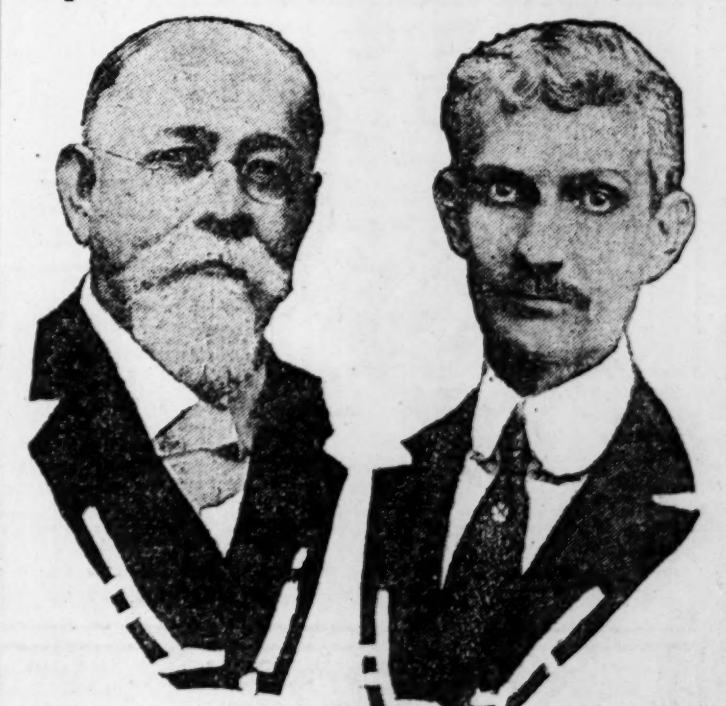

But the prince could not quite get away with the attempt to be a mere noble, lord of the realm, for several thousand of his father's subjects assembled at the station, and to them he remained the Prince of Wales, heir to the throne, and the most popular young man in the empire. They cheered him until he had to raise his hat and nod his head several times, but it plainly bored him to have to do so.

DECLARES PAINTING IS FAKED DA VINCI

Paris, September 5.—Bernard Berenson, Florentine art expert, examined for an hour today before the American consular general, Thachara, in the inquiry as to whether Mrs. Andre E. Halin's painting, "La Belle Ferroniere," is an original Da Vinci. Berenson refused to be shaken in his conviction, expressed yesterday, that Mrs. Halin's painting is not the work of the Italian master.

He accused the possibility of identifying an old painting by the finger print method. In the course of the cross examination he remarked that the Madrid "Mona Lisa" was not authentic.

Night School of the Southern Business College Re-Opens September 10th at 6 O'Clock

A. C. Briscoe, Pres. Southern Short-hand and Business University

L. W. Arnold, Vice Pres. Southern Short-hand and Business University

The night classes in shorthand, bookkeeping, typewriting, salesmanship, commercial Spanish, business English and penmanship, will begin at the Southern Short-hand and Business university, 11 Whitehall street, on Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Messrs. A. C. Briscoe and L. W. Arnold, Atlanta's pioneer shorthand writers and teachers, both instruct in the shorthand department, and are assisted by other able teachers.

Prof. N. V. Johnson conducts classes in bookkeeping, commercial arithmetic and penmanship.

Rev. B. S. Fleming handles the subjects of business English and salesmanship.

Prof. N. Dominguez is the instructor of commercial Spanish.

Apply this week for entrance next. Everybody, almost, wants to attend the Southern Business college, the school that shows results. Day classes also, but night classes open Monday, September 10, at 6:30 p.m.—(Adv.)

Joel Webb Dies.

Cumming, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—Joel Webb, 89, died Monday night following an illness of several years. Mr. Webb was for many years a prominent business man and church leader in Cumming. He is survived by his wife, two sons, James A. and William M. Webb; and two daughters, Mrs. T. H. Shirley and Mrs. Robert E. Hope.

ROME DENIES POWER TO PROBE

Continued from First Page.

were founded on the supposition that danger of war existed," he said. "Creates Sensation."

Signor Salandra's statement created a sensation in the council chamber, which had many Americans among the spectators.

Lord Robert Cecil of England added a sensation by insisting that articles 10, 12 and 15 of the covenant of the league of nations should be read immediately, both in French and in English, and by declaring that if these articles were to be disregarded, the whole settlement of Europe would be shaken.

The articles in question were cited by Greece as the basis of her appeal to the league, and stipulates that the council of the league has a clear right to an investigation when there is danger of rupture between any of the states which are members of the league.

Further discussion of the Greco-Italian crisis was adjourned to an unfixed date, but perhaps tomorrow, in order to give the members of the council an opportunity to examine the Italian declaration and decide upon their future attitude in the crisis, which is generally regarded as having been aggravated by Signor Salandra's pronouncement.

M. Politis remarked that it was for the council to say whether it was competent to deal with the Greek affair, and not for one of the parties

Stewart's Underprice Cash Basement TODAY ONLY

A Drastic Clearance Sale of 680 Pairs White SLIPPERS

at $1.00 Pr.

This Is Positively Our Final White Sale for This Season

All Sales Final

Stewart's
509 N. ATLANTA ST.
ATLANTA, GA.

Downstairs

Defies the Baggage Smasher

Here's a trunk that says to the king of the railroad station, the baggage agent: "Do your worst!" It's practically smasher-proof. And it's a bulky good trunk inside. Lots of room—and then some. Wardrobe trunks? Sure, any size at any price. Suit cases, bags, toilet cases, manicure sets, etc.

ROUNTREE'S

186 Peachtree St.

—2 Stores—

77 Whitehall

W. Z. TURNER, Mgr. WE DO REPAIRING

THE CONSTITUTION

The Standard Southern Newspaper.
CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager.
Clark Howell, Jr., Business Manager.

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone Main 5000.

ATLANTA, GA., SEPT. 6, 1923.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

Daily and 1 Mo. 1 Mo. 6 Mos. 1 Yr.
By Carrier or Mail. $2.50 $8.00 $15.00
By Mail. $2.00 $6.00 $10.00
Single Copies—Daily, 5c. Sunday, 10c.

J. R. HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had: Hotelling's News Stand, Broadway and Forty-second street (Times building corner); Schulte News Agency, at Bryant Park, and Grand Central Depot.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payment of subscriptions. Receipts given for subscription payments are in accordance with published rates and are not returned unless accompanied by subscription payment. Receipts will be returned at office of publication.

Member of the Associated Press. The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use of publication of all news dispatches credited to it, or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

AS A MOTHER'S COMFORT:—As one whom his mother comforted so will I comfort you.—Isaiah 66:13.

MUSOLINI'S DEFIANCE.

The pronouncement of Italy that she will not recognize the authority of the league of nations in settling her dispute with Greece only throws across the horizon of Europe the forebodings of another Armageddon, even while the ground is yet shaking from the cataclysm of 1914-18.

If the league prove ineffectual in the face of the defiance of Mussolini, and British and French intervention fails, a second great struggle is entirely possible.

And even as the diplomats struggle for a settlement, which a peace-loving world hopes and prays may ensue, Great Britain is pushing her powerful Mediterranean fleet toward the scene of the trouble and the Balkans are quivering with anger and uncertain where to turn.

The situation has undoubtedly been embarrassed, and the league's functions weakened, by what has recently taken place in Europe and by strained international relations following the problems of reparation.

When the Italian government expressed its opinion regarding the occupation of the Ruhr, it plainly indicated its distrust of a program of force. France, however, persisted in settling her differences with Germany in her own way, even to the extent of straining her relations with Great Britain.

It is not difficult to understand that Mussolini is now ready to meet a possible French protest at armed pressure by citing the example of France herself. Invoking French precedent in his own support, Mussolini has already silenced in a measure the caustic criticism of the militaristic press of France that might have been expected had the situation been different.

The league of nations is being asked to intervene in a case where one of the parties has already taken steps to satisfy its claims by seizing the property of the other.

Although the seizure of Corfu is excused by the Italians as a temporary measure only to force Greece to terms, it imposes terms upon Greece that will be practically impossible to meet, and therefore the occupation will probably be permanent until changed by arms, unless the league may be able to settle the differences despite the protest of the Italian premier that it has no justification.

The seizure of Corfu has been brewing for years. The Italians have long craved it as the ideal key to the sea-gates of the Adriatic. Italy has long been waiting for an excuse, and the differences with Greece were of less moment perhaps in the creation of that excuse than the precedent set by the armed forces of France in the latter's post-war differences with Germany.

The world is startled by the disclosures of the past few hours. That Mussolini is but the instrument of Roman ambition is evident.

The league of nations as a functioning organization is challenged, and the best thought of the world is that it must take up the challenge.

It's all right to dream of wealth, but the only way to get it is to wake up to work.

Noted that a college professor

Just From Georgia

BY FRANK L. STANTON
The Prophet.

He "knows it all" as you may say. That's why you should be dumb. He knows just all there is today. And all that's yet to come! So, day by day, his work is wrought. Who thinks but as the others thought.

II. He knew that things would happen so. Because a History-page He then turned—and it made him know.

III. "The same from age to age! So fought the nations, far away. And so—please God—they'll fight today!"

And people cried: "What gift un- And—'Heed the prophet's tongue. Who tells us how the world grew old. After God made it young! And yet, this sequel doth befall: He hasn't told us, thing at all!"

IV. The Richmond Philosopher. Colonel John E. Finch, in his weekly letter to The Greensboro Herald-Journal, says:

"We recently saw a two-horse road of Greene county raised corn for sale. This sounds mighty good!"

"The question is being asked all over Georgia: What did the legislature do? That is easy. They were in session fifty days, drew seven dollars per day—and then came home."

"We are going to take a day off and pray for the man that runs his cows, horses and hogs out to forage on his neighbor's crop. For if any man needs the benefit of a prayer, it is him."

"One legislature in five years is enough and you don't need keep politics out of it, then it would not be worth a dried apple dam as far as making new laws. There are too many now. It takes a first-class lawyer to keep up with them."

On the Way. I. It's still to go the thrifty way—To reap from every clod. Not even yielding thanks—For fields and fruits of God; Then rail at life, where none may save And find an unwept grave.

II. Who "loves his life shall lose it"—Is the old adage plain; But, loving life, or hating, The bitter cups to drain! Yet we would tarry 'til the last—Unknown, the Future—sweet the Past!

Texts By the Wayside. These little precepts from Uncle Jimmie, in The Greensboro Herald-Journal:

"It is a good idea to tell your wife everything—but be certain to tell her before some one else does."

"You can tell when a man begins to get old, by hearing him tell what a swift guy he was in his youth."

"There is no more important thing in a small community than the committee on refreshments at a social function."

"Scientists now claim that violin music is a good hair tonic. We have heard some that was hair-raising, all right."

"It is strange that a doctor never prescribes a rest and change except for those who already have the change."

"Gas will decide wars of future," an expert declares. Yes, and gas has started a lot of 'em, in our way of thinking."

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
(Copyright, 1923, for The Constitution.)

WAR. No day seems quite perfect without at least one letter from some one who has an infallible and, of course, more or less mysterious remedy for war, the most mysterious of all ailments. From the small boy who believes that wars come from handling dolls, to the queer old "yarn doctor" who (for two cents) gives the "quack" remedy for an incantation or charm warranted to effect their disappearance, all the vagaries are given free reign in coping with this familiar condition. It generally rains out of the sky, and sometimes a rainmaker is fortunate enough to operate just before a shower. Likewise warts come and go without rhyme or reason; hence a thousand remedies acquire a potency which is unfailing—until somebody tries them.

Warts may be produced by inoculation into the skin of fragments of warts from another person, but no specific germ has been determined, though a bacillus isolated from warts produces similar lesions in the skin of rabbits. Probably the greater frequency of warts on the hands of children is explained by infection; the particular susceptibility of the hands with dirty hands, or little boys of the dirty hands age, is a suspicious circumstance. Warts rarely appear on the soles, where they cause much annoyance and if not carefully examined are likely to be mistaken for corns; these plantar warts further suggest an infectious origin, clean feet being much less popular than clean hands. The peculiar rough tuft of hypertrophied papillae at the top of a wart, surrounded perhaps by hardened or horny epidermis like that of a corn, distinguishes warts from corns generally.

"Seed warts"—which so many folk say they have—are a deep, dark nodule to me, unless that is a favorite name for any and all warts.

A peculiar flat, smooth, glistening wart a number of them commonly half an ounce of flexible collodion is quite as effective for warts as it is for corns.

Single warts on the face should be removed only by the surgeon, never treated by the amateur.

Georgia's quota for the relief of the hundreds of thousands of sufferers in stricken Japan is only $30,000, as made by the American Red Cross, which institution very correctly has been placed in charge of the work by President Coolidge. This amount is small when one takes into account the unprecedented appeal presented by the cataclysm in Japan, the most far-reaching human tragedy, outside of war, in the history of the world.

This amount should be met promptly as the relief must be given promptly. This is the occasion to back sympathy with action, for the world offers no greater incentive to help than the cause of stricken humanity.

Georgia's quota for the relief of the hundreds of thousands of sufferers in stricken Japan is only $30,000, as made by the American Red Cross, which institution very correctly has been placed in charge of the work by President Coolidge. This amount is small when one takes into account the unprecedented appeal presented by the cataclysm in Japan, the most far-reaching human tragedy, outside of war, in the history of the world.

This amount should be met promptly as the relief must be given promptly. This is the occasion to back sympathy with action, for the world offers no greater incentive to help than the cause of stricken humanity.

Georgia's quota for the relief of the hundreds of thousands of sufferers in stricken Japan is only $30,000, as made by the American Red Cross, which institution very correctly has been placed in charge of the work by President Coolidge. This amount is small when one takes into account the unprecedented appeal presented by the cataclysm in Japan, the most far-reaching human tragedy, outside of war, in the history of the world.

Just in Passing

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON

All over Georgia the schools are opening and in another week or two the great state and public systems will be running at full swing. What a happy, joyous season!

And yet how sad are many of the features attached to school conditions in Georgia!

Hundreds of boys who aspire to technical training would love to go to Tech, but they cannot go. The state does not provide for it as it should; tuition is high, and poverty is a cruel master.

High school graduates are knocking at the university, at the state normal, at the Georgia normal and industrial, and at others—but in vain.

The state does not take into account that conditions in Georgia today are not the same as they were a quarter of a century ago; and enlargements and increased facilities and improved physical conditions are foreign to Georgia's idea of running her state institutions.

Sad condition! All over Georgia, in the mountains, in the plains, along the coast—up amidst the laurel and the rhododendron, down in the wiregrass—the little drooping one-room school shacks, unworthy of this great state and people, and forbidding to the young, impressionable natures gathered about them, are the best that the state of their fathers offers them—

A sad commentary upon a state even now burdened with taxation. There must be a change. An aroused public conscience demands it.

The costs alone of the extra session of the legislature that will soon be replacing the people without rhyme or reason or real emergency, would replace these shacks with fitting buildings in every section of the state—

But, we go on and on, in the mad race of demagoguery and political mania, unmindful of the great obligation a state owes to its youth.

If we economized more where economy is needed and where waste is appalling, in our county as well as in our state governments; and if we had the courage to throw off the yoke of political servitude that grips this state like an Asiatic plague, we would ease these conditions; and we wouldn't increase taxes or penalize thrift, either.

What we need is more economic sense in government and less vote-bidding platitudes.

But back to the children—God bless them, they are worth all the politicians.

This is a crucial moment for their health. Let's watch it and guard it. We can do that without legislative interference or obstruction.

After a vigorous outdoor life of the vacation season the physical welfare of children entering abruptly into a life of confinement is of the deepest concern. Strong foods must be avoided as they touch the live wires strewn over the asphalt.

No help anywhere. Sens of sparks, clouds of smoke, flames that shoot around corners, bedlam of snarling, wild-eyed men fighting like snarling animals, man against hell.

And Then—Stillness. And so for a night and a day. And then the stillness of death. The acid smell of burned wood is in the air. Ruins, blackened, twisted, charred, grotesque. Freaks of the fire-fighters' bodies, with the odor of cooked flesh. Heaps of men, women and children in horrible attitudes. Grasping each other in death agony. Bodies of men, women and children in the streets, lying across the street, still, cold, and dead. The catastrophe in Japan eclipses anything in horror and misery that the world has ever seen. The earth shook and terror seized the inhabitants. Panic everywhere. Men, women and children run out of their dwellings. Houses away and topple like drunken men and crash in the streets below. Children are trampled under foot. It is a hell, a crazy flight. Every day is a day of horror, a day of light and the terrible scene with a ghastly hue of the netherworld. Hell has been loosed upon earth. Dante's Inferno brought to actuality with the terrors increased a thousandfold.

Watermines burst under pressure of cooling strata of the earth crust. Spouts of water with high pressure behind them shoot up, knock down people and become like raging torrents, sweeping everything before them. Cracking wood and bamboo all around. Flames licking across the streets, shooting heavenward, like towers of fire, and the howl of men, screaming, screaming, screaming. The wail of the damned and the howl of men, screaming, screaming, screaming. The wail of the damned and the howl of men, screaming, screaming, screaming.

Explosions rock the ground, arsenals go up with crashing roar as the ammunition for thousands of guns is reached by the roaring furnace.

Walls of fire in front, parapets of flame behind, sparks coming out like flaming rain, all escape cut off. Men and women trapped and helpless, yelling, howling, crying, kicking, scratching, choking, gasping—dying.

More shocks, great gaps open in the middle of the streets. Long tears in the surface of the earth as its foundations give away. Surging crowds move on, push, scramble, hammer one another down the abyssal depths. Blood-curdling screams, smoke-blinded women with babies in their arms plunge downward.

Overhead the sky is the color of blood. Thick plumes of smoke roll upward, blending on high with other clouds, until the whole becomes a giant curtain of death over the scene. Everywhere flames, roaring, leaping, scorching, tearing down, smashing down, searing, cooking human bodies.

Temples, government buildings, theaters, long rows of rickety, thin, bamboo dwellings all go up in smoke. Deafening noise as roofs and walls crash down. Hellish heat, the color of fire and smoke when electric power houses are surrounded by the all-igniting flames. People running in the streets, trampled down, lying, suffering, screaming, screaming, screaming. Stricken with death they seek to escape and the young bodies must be adjusted to the new conditions.

For the next few weeks let's forget about politics and scandals, and all such, and watch our children.

The country newspaper is an institution that is very close to my heart. It is a factor in community life that is immeasurable in its value. The editor of such a newspaper is a community leader.

He ought to be if he isn't, for his position qualifies him for civic and political and social and educational and even religious leadership, even to a greater coordinated degree than any other one individual.

The minister of course is a religious leader; the teacher an educational leader, and so on.

But the country editor combines all of these, if he measures up to his opportunities.

Thus the great responsibility that rests upon him.

Says Farmers Should

"Top" the Growing Cotton

Editor Constitution: Your editorial in today's Constitution entitled "Why the Failure," referring to a Cordele dispatch reporting a 120-acre field of cotton in Crisp county destroyed by weevils, was timely and to the point. Such editorials will prove of untold benefit to the cotton farmer if he will only heed the good advice contained therein.

We would like to make a suggestion to the cotton farmers that they immediately cut off several inches from the top of all growing cotton plants, usually called "topping." This will check further upward growth of the plant and will allow the sunshine and air better access to the maturing fruit, and largely cut off the food supply and breeding places of millions of weevils.

Of course, we would soon hatch out and hunt winter quarters. Even where cotton has been well poisoned there is very little chance of bringing to maturity any fruit that might appear on the stalks after this date.

All energy should be lent towards protecting the bolls that are already on the stalks, and bringing them to earlier maturity and to a quicker opening. All cotton farmers have no doubt noticed that a bush of cotton bitten off by the mule or otherwise damaged during the growing season will bring fruit to maturity earlier than undamaged stalks near by.

Of course we say poison first, and all the time, but we believe topping in this stage is very advisable. Should any number of farmers try this suggestion, we would be glad if they would write us of the results.

Q—When and in how many rounds did Marvin Hart knock out Round? At Reno, Nev. July 3, 1905, in twelve rounds.

Q—When was Queen Elizabeth of England born, and why did she succeed to the throne instead of a man? A—Born September 7, 1533, and succeeded her half-sister, Mary, on the throne of England. The laws of England did not, and do not, bar a woman from succession to the throne, and Elizabeth was the only surviving

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Questions

Any reader may obtain a personal reply to any answerable question of fact or information by writing to Washington Bureau, Atlanta Constitution, 1322 New York avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., enclosing a check in stamps. Legal, medical and marital advice can not be given, nor can extended research be undertaken. Unsigned letters can not be answered. All letters are confidential.

Correction: In the issue of this paper of August 28, the Question and Answer column stated that the estimated Jewish population of New York City is 3,500,000. This is a typographical error, the figure should have been 1,500,000.

Q—On what day of the week did April 13, 1894, fall? A—Tuesday.

Q—What famous men had birthdays on September 29? A—Among them were Lord Clive, founder of British empire in India, and Admiral Lord Nelson.

Q—Where are there leper colonies? A—Molokai, Hawaii; Cabras Island, Porto Rico; Cullin leper colony, Philippines; the states of Louisiana, California and Massachusetts have special hospitals for the treatment of this disease.

Q—How much concrete will one cubic foot of cement, 2 cubic feet of sand and 3 cubic feet of chat, or broken stone, make? A—Eleven and a half square feet of concrete 4 inches thick. This may vary, depending slightly on how one mixes the material.

Q—When and in how many rounds did Marvin Hart knock out Round? At Reno, Nev. July 3, 1905, in twelve rounds.

Q—When was Queen Elizabeth of England born, and why did she succeed to the throne instead of a man? A—Born September 7, 1533, and succeeded her half-sister, Mary, on the throne of England. The laws of England did not, and do not, bar a woman from succession to the throne, and Elizabeth was the only surviving

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What is the transcendent motorcycle record? A—Six days, 17 hours, 10 minutes, from New York to Los Angeles, made by "Cannonball" Baker July 29, August 4, 1920.

Q—Is it practicable for farmers to make gas with light, heat and power out of straw? A—The department of agriculture, after experimenting along this line, has not found it practicable.

Q—What

Atlanta Begins Response To Appeal of Red Cross For $12,000 Relief Fund

Atlanta has begun its response to the appeal of the Red Cross on behalf of the stricken people of Japan. The overwhelming catastrophe has touched the hearts of the south and letters from all sections of Georgia are pouring into the Red Cross headquarters all day Wednesday, asking for particulars for organization of relief committees.

The quota for Atlanta has been set at $12,000, while the whole of Georgia is expected to raise $50,000 of the $500,000 fund. Conferences between President Coolidge and national officers of the Red Cross resulted in an immediate survey of available workers.

The Atlanta chapter of the Red Cross convened Wednesday afternoon to consider steps for the realization of the quota assessed on Atlanta by the national headquarters of the organization.

Designate Quota Here.
The resolution adopted Wednesday afternoon read as follows:

Whereas, Atlanta has been asked to raise $12,000 in the nationwide appeal now being made by the American Red Cross for stricken Japan;

Resolved, by the Atlanta chapter of the Red Cross, That we accept $12,000 as a reasonable quota for this community and appeal to our three newspapers to open a public subscription list and to all citizens and our civic, patriotic, religious and business organizations to make contributions and otherwise assist in the raising of this fund without delay.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.
Atlanta Chapter, American Red Cross.
By Robert S. Parker, vice chairman;
Alfred Thompson, Jr., secretary.

It was felt that owing to the efficient organization of the Japanese Red Cross it would not be necessary to detail American personnel to rush to the stricken areas. It was also found that the greatest need of Japan in the present calamity would be sufficient funds to start the gigantic task of relief work.

The great distance, which would prohibit delivery of material such as medical equipment, in time for use in the crisis is one of the greatest handicaps that confronts the relief organization at the present time.

Donations Come In.
One of the first donations received Wednesday came from Mrs. Frederic J. Paxson as head of the Business Women's League of the Second Baptist church. It was a check for $25 payable to the Red Cross committee.

The Red Cross is now receiving donations. Subscriptions should be sent without delay to Henry W. Davis, treasurer Atlanta chapter, 249 Ivy street, Atlanta.

Subscriptions received at The Constitution will be promptly forwarded to this address.

ISLAND PROGRESS BACK TEN YEARS
Continued from First Page.

The Yokohama foreigners were those who were in the city at the time of the earthquake and fire while shopping in the downtown district. Thousands of the terror-stricken natives drowned in the canals while seeking safety from the raging inferno which followed the tremble.

The earthquake left great gaps in the pavements and wrecked most of the buildings. Fire, which started in numerous places at once, completed the destruction.

The American and British residents of Yokohama, who escaped the disaster are gathering the bodies of foreign victims for burial at sea.

The remains of the Chinese population of the ruined city are gathered under the bluffs, without food and shelter. Their condition is pitiable.

As far as is known, not only one American lost his life in Tokyo. He was W. T. Blume, of the General Electric company, who was killed in the collapse of the company's building.

Americans who lost their lives in Yokohama include Captain MacDonald, of the Grand hotel; Mrs. Root and son, recent arrivals, and Max D. Kirjason, American consul.

JAP OFFICIAL PUTS DEATH TOTAL AT 250,000.
London, September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The first official account of the Japanese earthquake came today in the shape of a dispatch which the Japanese embassy received from the governor of the prefecture of Osaka which says that the offices of the ministries of the interior, finance, education and railways, the metropolitan police headquarters and the arsenal in Tokyo were burned down.

The Takawana palace, the Imperial theater and the Yuraku theater were among the other buildings destroyed in the fire.

It is estimated that 200,000 houses were burned down and there were 150,000 casualties in Tokyo.

In Yokohama the conflagration was followed by a tidal wave and almost the entire city was devastated. The casualties there were estimated to exceed 100,000.

There is dire need for food and water in both cities.

The message confirms the establishment of martial law and other rigid precautions taken to maintain order.

FLOOR OF HARBOR RAISES, TRAPS SHIPS.
Washington, September 5.—An official dispatch to the shipping board from its agent at Manila today reported that all vessels of the government merchant fleet which were in the Japanese earthquake area have been reported safe.

The message relayed information received from official sources in Japan to the effect that all foreign refugees escaping the disaster had been taken care of upon ships in Yokohama harbor.

As a result of the earthquake the Manila agent said, the floor of Yokohama harbor has been raised, trapping several ships inside the port. It was suggested here that this might necessitate the use of the port of Kobe as the principal receiving point for relief supplies.

800 HOSPITAL PATIENTS VICTIMS OF TOKYO FIRE.
Shanghai, September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—An Eastern News agency report from Haranomachi today said 800 patients in the Imperial University hospital at Tokyo were burned to death and that the imperial palace had been opened to refugees.

The report said some large buildings had escaped damage, including the department of justice, navy, supreme court and house of representatives building and the Tokyo prefectural office and the imperial hotel.

The buildings reported totally destroyed include the Bank of Japan, the Mitsui bank, the Yasuda bank and the Third bank.

Princesses Nagato Kuni and Hiroko Kanin and Prince Kanin are reported safe.

METHODIST MISSIONARIES ESCAPE DEATH.
New York, September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—All missionaries of the Methodist board of foreign missions located in Japan, according to a cable message received today from Bishop Herbert Welch in Karuzawa, a mountain resort about 50 miles from Tokyo. Fifty persons attached to Methodist missions are in the affected area.

ITALIAN AMBASSADOR TO JAPAN DEAD.
Rome, September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Italian ambassador to Japan, G. De Meana, is reported to have perished in the earthquake.

U. S. ATTACHE AT YOKOHAMA DEAD.
Nagasaki, September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The family of the American commercial attaché at Yokohama, E. G. Babbitt, are all dead. T. Dejourdin, the French consul at Yokohama, also was killed in the quake.

HUNDRED FOREIGNERS DEAD IN YOKOHAMA.
Pekin, September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—One hundred foreigners are believed to have perished in Yokohama, says a Reuters' dispatch from Osaka received here this afternoon. The dead include the American and British consuls.

10,000 REFUGEES BURNED TO DEATH.
Osaka, September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Approximately 10,000 refugees, fleeing from the ruins of Tokyo, were burned to death in the yard of a military clothing factory in the industrial suburb of Honjo.

WATER AND FOOD SCARCE IN TOKYO.
Osaka, September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Water and provisions are reported still scarce in Tokyo. Three persons are sharing a single piece of bread.

REFORMED CHURCH MISSIONARIES SAFE.
New York, September 5.—All of the missionaries in Tokyo and provisions are reported still scarce in Tokyo. Three persons are sharing a single piece of bread.

JERSEY CONGRESSMAN ESCAPES DEATH.
New York, September 5.—Congressman Ernest R. Ackerman, of Plainfield, N. J., whose whereabouts in Japan were reported missing, is reported safe in Tokyo, according to a cable message from Shanghai, to the unknown, is safe in Tokyo, according to a cable message received from him today.

MISSING LINER IS NOW SAFE.
San Francisco, September 5.—The liner Taiyo Maru, which was reported yesterday somewhere off the coast of Japan, is safe, according to a message received here this morning by the Radio Corporation of America. She is in communication with the Japanese naval radio station at Choshi.

TOKYO MUSEUM LEVELLED BY QUAKE.
Osaka, September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Manikidai received a dispatch today saying that Baron Okura's residence and museum in Tokyo were turned in the fire following the earthquake. The museum was built to house the art objects of the famous Morrison collection of Peking.

U. S. MILITARY ATTACHE IS DISASTER VICTIM.
Nagasaki, September 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—It is stated that the American military attaché and other persons were killed in the derailment of a train between Hirasaka and Oiso during the earthquake.

The secretary of the German embassy also was killed. It is reported that a passenger train near Atami on Saturday noon was hurled into the sea and 300 persons were drowned. Thirty of the passengers swam ashore.

FOUR AMERICANS DIE IN NAVAL HOSPITAL.
Washington, September 5.—The state department tonight received a radio message from Kobe saying that Yokohama had been "completely destroyed" and that the United States naval hospital has been destroyed and that Chief Pharmacist L. Zembach, his wife and two enlisted men had been killed. Dr. U. R. Webb, in command of the hospital, was "badly injured," the message added.

FORMER ATLANTAN DIES IN TENNESSEE.
Willis Whipple, former Atlantan, died at his home in Chattanooga, Tenn., Tuesday, according to word received here Wednesday. Funeral services will be held this afternoon from the residence in Chattanooga.

Mr. Whipple died twenty-five years in College Park and Haverhill, being engaged in the real estate business. He moved to Chattanooga about three months ago. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Harker and Mrs. C. Hoyt Bradford. Mrs. Harker makes her home in Chattanooga and Mrs. Bradford lives in Nashville.

SENT FINE IN PENNIES; JAILED FOR CONTEMPT.
San Rafael, California, September 5.—A few days ago, Charles Korss, a San Francisco grocer, was fined $5 for speeding in San Rafael. He mailed the fine from San Francisco in pennies, tied in separate packages of 100 pennies each. It cost him 18 cents postage.

Today he was haled before the court for contempt and was fined an additional $50 and sent to the county jail for five days, the judge figuring that he was holding the court too cheaply by sending the original fine in pennies.

A chemical process making sawdust into cattle food is being tried by chemists.

Nurserymen Open Convention Here

Three officials of the Southern Nurserymen's association, in session at Ansley hotel this week. Left, Walter Hillenmeyer, vice president, Lexington, Ky.; center, Birmingham, Ala., and O. Joe Howard, president, Hickory, N. C.

QUAKE REFUGEES SPEAK OF HEROES

BY MATO, TAKATA.
Assistant Foreign Editor Osaka Mainichi.

(Copyright, 1923, by United News.)

Osaka, September 5.—Japan is mobilizing every resource for the relief of our stricken people.

The government is determined that the nation shall rise from the ashes of ruin, and that the hundreds of thousands now homeless shall not be left to die.

Premier Yamamoto and Viscount Goto, foreign secretary, are supervising the relief work in Tokyo. The premier has ordered the fleet to rush food supplies to all stricken cities.

Along the sea coast, over the mountains, a pilgrimage of sorrow is moving toward this city. Roads are crowded with refugees, who, knowing that they cannot survive in the blackened desolate lands of despair are attempting to reach the towns unscathed by the disaster.

The wretched, travel-worn creatures who have already arrived are being housed in public buildings, hospitals are crowded, while schools, palaces and other buildings are being thrown open to the refugees.

Tragic tales are told by the refugees pouring into this city, giving the first actual pictures by those who were struck during the disaster.

Fell at First Smash.
A foreign refugee who reached this city from devastated Yokohama Wednesday told of the horrors there. Here is the story as he recited it to me, a simple but frightful narrative:

"At the first smash the city fell. With the sinking of the land in the lower town, water spurted through innumerable cracks in the earth."

"Within ten minutes after the first shock the streets were 10 inches under water."

"The city was absolutely and completely ruined."

"Under these ruins lie the bodies of many prominent foreigners, business men, clerks and the stenographers in the various foreign establishments."

"The hand (upper section) of Yokohama where foreigners live is absolutely cleared of all habitations and all life."

"In the majority of cases the houses crashed down on the heads of the refugees who were lying in the streets, apparently uninjured."

"All means for foreigners were cut off."

"The flames broke out immediately. They burned everywhere, swept onward by a fierce wind."

"In native parts of the country, thousands of Japanese seemed to die simply of heart failure, dropping in the streets, apparently uninjured."

"All means for foreigners were cut off."

"Under the hissing curtain of flames the people knelt in prayer, heedless of the roaring inferno about them."

"They seemed dazed, indifferent as to their own fates, and callous of the miseries of those about them."

"They stared numbly at the entrance doors of houses whence came mad shrieks for aid."

"There were many cases of heroism. Japanese servants refused to leave their foreign masters or their baby charges, dying with them rather than flee. I saw one coolie standing amid flames, helping women and children escape from the doorway of a burning house. His clothing and hair were afire. His face was distorted with agony. Yet he remained there until he fell dead, mercifully asphyxiated."

"Practically all foreigners were taken aboard fifteen steamers in the harbor Monday. I believe that only about a dozen were left on land."

"The French liner, 'Andre Lebon,' was crowded with European refugees, including the French ambassador, who walked from Tokyo to Yokohama."

"After the quake, several foreigners assisted the Japanese volunteer police in keeping order and looking after those who had not already fled to the harbor boats."

Smoke Obscures City.
Japanese aviators who flew over Yokohama Wednesday report that thousands of dead bodies are still lying in the streets, decaying there. Smoke clouds still drift above the city as portions of the fire are burning.

The stench of decaying bodies, rotting warehouse foodstuffs and fire-swept and water-soaked timbers arises above the city.

No landings were made by the pilots, who swept over the devastated areas in low circles, seeking landmarks.

They report that all public compounds are filled with refugees. Wrecked trolley cars, grotesquely overturned, lie about the streets.

Trolley tracks have been broken and rise into the air in twisted confusion. Many of the streets are blocked with rubbish or fallen buildings, preventing passage.

Armed military patrols are posted everywhere, and military units are moving through the streets.

Paris Decalogue Has Application Almost Anywhere

Paris, September 5.—Now that the tourist season is closing 'Pierre Verbe', the French dramatist, has handed down ten commandments to Americans visiting Paris, based on a summer's observations. His advice is the "Paris Decalogue" follows:

1. Drink as much as you can but not as much as you want. Drunkenness is not elegant here.

2. Don't speak to women who don't speak to you. Talk even less with those who do speak to you.

3. Be as well behaved with French girls as you would be with one of your own countrywomen. Coquetry is not an encouragement to rudeness.

4. Do not think that Montmartre is the rendezvous of the French. When they venture there it is to see foreigners.

5. Do not imagine that you are made of better stuff because you have money. You will be respectfully laughed at.

6. Do not do in France what you would not dare do in your own country.

7. It isn't necessary to go to the chamber of deputies. You have worse than that at home.

8. Foreigners have the bad habit of visiting Paris in the summer; they only meet other foreigners and road men.

9. Don't play cards with partners you don't know; don't even play with those you do know.

10. Remember that in France it is only the French who do not amuse themselves.

'Freddie' Thompson Hailed in Court; Wears Freak Duds

Chicago, September 5.—"Freddie" Thompson, the strange "girl-man" accused of the murder of Richard C. Tesmer, will go on trial October 1.

"Freddie" smiled coquettishly at Chief Justice John R. Caverly Wednesday as his attorney announced readiness to proceed.

The principal evidence against Thompson is his identification by Mrs. Tesmer, widow of the murdered insurance man, as "the girl with the Mona Lisa smile," who fired the fatal shot in connection with a holdup.

Judge Marcus Kavanaugh had sworn "Freddie" when the latter appeared before him recently in woman's clothes, so Wednesday "Freddie" was tastefully attired in baggy trousers, a sport shirt open at the neck, and a bright red ribbon on his right wrist.

They recognize in them the Ultra Style—Fine Fabrics—Excellent Tailoring and Perfect Fit—

Parks-Chambers-Hardwick Co.

Why Not Select Yours Today? An Unusual Variety Received Yesterday.

63,500 customers--an increase of more than 7,500 in the last twelve months

SAVINGS NOTICE—

Interest from September 1 on deposits made by September 7

FOURTH NATIONAL BANK

AT FIVE POINTS ATLANTA

West End Peachtree and North Avenue

Boulevard and Ponce de Leon

Decatur Euclid and Moreland

Resources $30,000,000

Shotgun Trap Kills One Bandit; Another Is Jailed

Gastonia, N. C., September 5.—A shotgun trap set by S. L. Kiser in his country store ten miles from here last night to catch robbers proved effective. As a result Herman Falls, of Kings Mountain, is dead; Raymond Benfield, of Bessemer City, is in jail under charge of robbery. Officers are searching for Will McDonald, charged with complicity in the robbery, and fifteen pairs of shoes stolen along the road have been recovered.

According to information gathered by the officers, the three men entered the store early today and took fifteen pairs of shoes to their automobile outside. Falls re-entered the store and tripped a string which was attached to the trigger of the shotgun Mr. Kiser had set. The gun fired a load of shot into his body. The other two men in the car ran away. Falls dragged himself some distance from the store and was picked up by his alleged confederates and taken to a hospital, where he died later. The shoes are supposed to have been thrown from the car as it dashed away from the store.

SAYS BISHOP HIT HIM FOR BEING KLANSMAN

St. Louis, September 5.—The first attempt of the Rev. C. D. McGehee, Southern Methodist Episcopal minister, to bring charges against his superior, Bishop W. F. McMurtry, failed today when the chairman and a member of the committee of three ministers, the Rev. Mr. McGehee appointed to consider his charges, announced they would not serve. The third member is out of the city. The Rev. Mr. McGehee alleges the bishop struck him because of his activities in behalf of the Ku Klux Klan, but the bishop vehemently denies this.

TWO MISSISSIPPIANS ARE SAVED FROM NOOSE

Jackson, Miss., September 5.—Frank Atkinson and Clyde Greer, of Meridian, Miss., both white, have been saved from the hangman's noose by the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States. The men were sentenced to hang on September 28, but an appeal has been taken which acts as a superceded.

The convicted men are alleged to have lured Bryant, who had a fight with Greer the day previous, to a swamp, where his bullet ridden body was found some days later.

Young Men Going A Way To College

Or Those Who Will Enter Atlanta Universities Will Buy Their

Fall Suits

At This Store

$35 to $60

They Recognize In Them The Ultra Style—Fine Fabrics—Excellent Tailoring and Perfect Fit—

Parks-Chambers-Hardwick Co.

Why Not Select Yours Today? An Unusual Variety Received Yesterday.

63,500 customers--an increase of more than 7,500 in the last twelve months

SAVINGS NOTICE—

Interest from September 1 on deposits made by September 7

FOURTH NATIONAL BANK

AT FIVE POINTS ATLANTA

West End Peachtree and North Avenue

Boulevard and Ponce de Leon

Decatur Euclid and Moreland

Resources $30,000,000

Strap Watches Wrist Watches Pocket Watches

A watch is one of the most appropriate gifts one can give to a young lady or young man about to leave for school.

And you can solve the problem of selecting the best one by inspecting our display of new models.

Write for twenty-eighth annual watch and jewelry catalog.

Maier & Berkele, Inc.

Gold and Silversmiths

31 Whitehall Street

Established 1887

GIFTS THAT LAST

You'd hardly believe it!

YET it's true that a usual serving of Post Toasties, improved Corn Flakes, costs less than a cent.

Their quality, distinguished by flavor and real substance, make Post Toasties worth asking for by name.

The YELLOW and RED Post Toasties package is wax-wrapped to keep these delicious flakes "crackly-crisp."

Post (NEW) Toasties IMPROVED CORN FLAKES

Post Toasties improved CORN FLAKES

Post Toasties improved CORN FLAKES

Post Toasties improved CORN FLAKES

Post Toasties improved CORN FLAKES

Post Toasties improved CORN FLAKES

Post Toasties improved CORN FLAKES

Post Toasties improved CORN FLAKES

Post Toasties improved CORN FLAKES

Post Toasties improved CORN FLAKES

Post Toasties improved CORN FLAKES

Post Toasties improved CORN FLAKES

News of Society and Woman's Work

Flowers-Beasley Wedding Will Take Place This Evening

The marriage of Miss Sarah Elizabeth Flowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Flowers, and Arthur Wilburn Beasley, of Oxford, Ga., where they will make their future home, will be a social event of this evening taking place at 8 o'clock at the Druid Hills Methodist church.

Rev. W. H. Beasley, father of the groom, will perform the ceremony.

Miss Genevieve Flowers, sister of the bride, will be the maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Misses Thelma Ewing and Beulah Johnson. The three little flower girls will be Miss Mary Evelyn Andrews, Miss Virginia Andrews and Miss Eugene Regedie. Odie Ragdale, Jr., will be the ring bearer.

R. S. Hodgson, Jr., of Franklin, Tenn., will be the best man, while the groomsmen will be Kenneth Bell, of Jacksonville, Fla.; E. C. Colwell, of Pennsylvania; Raymond Mitchell, and James J. Flowers, Jr.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Genevieve Sewell, an aunt of the bride, will sing several numbers, accompanied by Miss Grace Mills, who will play the wedding march.

Miss Flowers is a graduate of the Girls' High school and attended Agnes Scott college. Mr. Beasley is a graduate of Emory university and an instructor at Emory college in Oxford, Ga., where they will make their future home.

Miss Grace Mills entertained the members of the wedding party at a buffet supper Wednesday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Oscar Mills, on Briarcliff road, following the rehearsal at the Druid Hills Methodist church.

The wide reception rooms and sun parlors were decorated with asters and snapdragons in French baskets. The supper table in the dining room was overlaid with a fine cloth and held in the center a silver vase filled with the same variety of flowers, while silver candelabra alternated with handsome compotes filled with glass nuts.

The hostess was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. Mills, who was gowned in black georgette and lace.

Miss Mills received her guests wearing a gown of black Canton crepe, elaborately outlined with cut steel beads.

Miss Flowers was gowned in jade headed georgette.

College Girls Will Be Honor Guests at Pretty Tea

Miss Ruth McDonald will entertain at tea this afternoon at the Woman's club in compliment to Misses Dorothy Shippey, Constance Spalding, Lamar Lowe and Nellie Morton, who leave shortly to attend Randolph-Macon college, and Miss Gertrude Harris, who enters Vassar this fall.

The guests will include Misses Mary Smith, Emily Nelson, Grace Zachry, Elizabeth McCallie, Martha Crowe, Katherine Bosworth, Louise Bunsler, Susan Clayburn, Katherine Grinstead, Frances Horner, Aline Ellis, Josephine Eichberg, Gwendolen Ferris, Ruby Felt, Vennie Bell Grant, Katherine Gillemont, Kathryn Johnson, Frances Chambers, Kenneth Maner, Elizabeth Vary, Claude Henderson, Mary Dunlap, Audrey Ovalthe, Eugenia Decker, Pauline Landon, Clio McLowry, Margaret Gann, Virginia Moss, Katherine Thomas, Katherine Catching, Lillian LeConte, Rachel Moore, Mary Moritz, Mary Louise Koser, Sarah Stewart, Dorothy

DeBardelaben, Martha Shell, Adele Turner, Edith Beasley, Sarah Bigham, Greta Bradford, Mary Harvey, Elizabeth Cooper, Nannette Griffith, Florence Ohear, Nell Brawner, Margaret Mahoney, Ellen Graham, Sarah Ella Schlesinger, Zehel Miller, Elizabeth Josses, Anne Lane Newell, Martha Bowen, Nell Clayton, Ninetta Sharp, Annie Dickinson, Helen Jackson, Dorothy Barnes, Edna Body, Cara Hinman, Evelyn Knox, Clayton Culloway, Elizabeth Fall, Marguerite Hodnett, Littell Funkhouser, Mary Broughton, Leticia and Elizabeth Johnson, Elizabeth Otis, Frances Marion, Evelyn Dunson, Elizabeth Dent, Sarah Hurt, Mary Middleton, Araminta Edwards, Louise Gay, Marjorie DeLeon, Doris Leiding and Mildred Kibbler.

Miss Jessie Mune, Miss Ethel Woolf, Miss Mattie Staton, Miss Louise Printup, Miss Mary Moore, Miss Ida Nelson, Miss Annie May Christie and Miss Frances Fletcher.

Miss Eckford Is Hostess at Bridge Party

Miss Florence Eckford was hostess Wednesday evening at a bridge party at her home on Peachtree circle, at which were assembled a congenial group of young people.

The prizes were French novelties.

Miss Eckford was assisted by her young sister, Miss Gates Eckford. She wore a gown of apricot-colored georgette with trimmings of lace of the same color.

Miss Gates Eckford's gown was of blue georgette with touches of gold and rose.

The guests present were Misses Katherine, Barley, Mary Haxley, Isabel Breitenbuecher, Eleanor O'Brien, Grace Powell, Elbert Gay, Frank Harris, P. B. Doronuch, Ed Garlington, Richard Morris, Harris Powell, Wier Cranshaw and Atwood Cole.

Miss Redwine Is Honor Guest.

Miss Katherine Redwine, of Gainesville, the feted guest of Miss Catherine Candler at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Candler on Briarcliff road, was the central figure at an informal bridge-teea entertained by Miss Frances Poole Wednesday afternoon at her home on Cascade road.

Zinnias, snapdragons and roses from the hostess' gardens were used in the decoration of the reception room. The honor guest was presented with a crystal novelty and the winners of the top score and consolation prizes were awarded bridge cards.

Miss Poole received her guests wearing grey Romanne crepe.

Miss Redwine was gowned in turquoise blue Canton crepe and a black hat.

Miss Candler wore black chiffon, trimmed with cream lace.

Miss Catherine Candler will entertain in compliment to her guest Thursday afternoon at a large bridge-teea at her home. She will be assisted by her mother, Mrs. Howard Candler.

Invited for this occasion are Misses Pauline Gray, Elizabeth Holman, Elizabeth Crankshaw, Runa Erwin, Frances Floyd, Ruth Osburn, Mary Ross, Virginia Torrance, Elizabeth Carroll, Marian Conch, Elizabeth Palmer, Rebecca Ashcraft, Clara Belle King, Inez Willingham, Mary Jernin, Bessie White, Hattie Poole, Elizabeth Putnam, Mary McCarty, Frances Poole, Gray Poole, Lillian Cain, Laura Candler, Martha Madrox, Margaret Elder, Mildred Fraser, Corday Rice, Elizabeth Dennis, Constance Cone, Nell Clayton, Marian Mansfield, Edythe Coleman, Raza Mather, Claire Taylor, Elizabeth Little, Grace Powell, Adeline Winston, Lillian McFarlin, Martha Boynton, Katherine Smith, Mary Rennie,

Misses Johnson Give Large Tea At Druid Hills

Misses Leticia and Elizabeth Johnson entertained at a tea Wednesday afternoon at the Druid Hills club, the occasion assembling a large group of the younger set and a small number of the married members of society.

The charming hostesses and receiving party stood in the reception room of the club, an orchestra played an attractive musical program during the calling hours.

The tea table was arranged in the palm room and was crested with a lace cloth. Three large baskets, holding gladioli and asters in wonderful pastel colorings, adorned the table. Punch bowls were placed at the ends of the table, and were decorated with snailax and ferns.

Mrs. Paul Johnson, and her daughters, the Misses Johnson, Misses Frances and Virginia Howard and Miss Sarah Hurt formed the receiving line.

Misses Lena Knox, Palmer Dallis, Littell Funkhouser, Cara Hinman, Laura Candler, Dorothy Barnes and Catherine Ginn assisted in receiving.

Miss Johnson was gowned in gold lace veiling, a foundation of gold metal cloth. Miss Elizabeth Johnson's gown was of flame-colored chiffon, over cloth of silver, and trimmed with French flowers.

Mrs. Johnson was gowned in white chiffon and satin.

Miss Virginia Howard wore a gown of cream lace combined with chiffon. Miss Frances Howard was gowned in white lace and cotton.

Miss Hurt's gown was of green georgette crepe embroidered in crystal beads.

Miss Funkhouser wore a model of flame chiffon trimmed with silver. Miss Candler wore purple crepe, embroidered in crystals.

Miss Ginn was gowned in green chiffon and lace.

Miss Knox wore blue chiffon and silver.

Miss Hinman's gown was of yellow chiffon trimmed with French flowers.

Miss Flowers Is Honored.

Miss Minnie Belle Dunbar honored Miss Sarah Flowers, a bride-elect of this week, at a box party at the Lyric Saturday afternoon. Those present were Miss Mildred Shelton, Miss Lulu Herbig, Miss Beulah Johnson, Miss Thelma Ewing, Miss Flowers and Miss Dunbar.

Clara Belle Maffett and Marie Rhodas.

Miss Runa Erwin will be hostess at a swimming party Friday morning in compliment to Miss Redwine.

THE Beauty
Of This Shoe Is Unusual

ONLY $12.50

Black Satin
Field Mouse Kid Trim

Tan Suede
Brown Kid Trim

Black Suede
Patent Trim
$14

The French Shoppe

THE CONSTITUTION'S DAILY WOMAN'S MAGAZINE

Supper-Dance At Driving Club.

The mid-week supper-dance at the Piedmont Driving club Wednesday evening assembled a number of members and visitors.

Congential groups motored out in the late afternoon for a swim in the attractive swimming pool of the club, remaining for supper and the dance.

Dining together were Mr. and Mrs. Howard McNair and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barnwell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bulow Campbell entertained a group of young people in compliment to their daughter, Miss Virginia Campbell. Chaperoning the party were Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. James Hickey.

Members of Homosassa Club Entertained at Durand Farm

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Williams entertained the members of the Homosassa Fishing club Wednesday evening at dinner at their country home, Durand Farm, in Decatur, following the business meeting of the club.

The club is composed of a group of prominent Atlanta men who visit Homosassa, Fla., annually and spend their vacation fishing.

Dinner was served on the wide terrace overlooking the gardens of the lovely home.

The officers of the club are: H. R. Durand, president; H. Y. McCord, vice president, and D. B. DeSaussure, secretary.

The other members are E. C. Peters, George Lowndes, Sr., Dr. W. E. Campbell, Sr., Dr. W. E. Bernard, J. K. Orr, Sr., L. L. Shivers, Dr. Phinizy Calhoun, Dr. Frank Eskridge, Judge T. H. Jeffries, T. C. Law, Charles T. Nunnally, E. Rivers, A. J. Ryan, E. M. Hudson, Charles A. Smith, John W. Armistead, James L. Dickey, Henry W. Davis, Robert Woodruff, Harrison Jones, Judge W. T. Colquitt and John A. Hendis.

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

ADVANCE INFORMATION
Let Every Woman in and Around Atlanta, for Her Own Good--Watch! --- Wait! --- for

Rich's Autumn Fashion Events

—To every woman in quest of strikingly becoming new fall clothes—to the thousands who will buy fall apparel this month—and want to buy the best at much less than the usual early season full prices—these September Fashion events will prove of vital interest and direct personal advantage.

—How well women remember the March Fashion events—at Rich's! How well they recall the remarkable fashion garments that they came to Rich's and got, for such a small outlay of money!

—And now comes the September Autumn Fashion events. Women reading this announcement already know what to expect.

Everybody in the store is on tip-toes of expectancy--- Friday will be a great day!

—Planned weeks ago—all for the women of Atlanta, who confidently look to this store, the helpful public institution that it is, to supply them with the most becoming of clothes, at little prices.

—Consider this advance information, and

Watch for Full Details in Today's Afternoon Papers and Tomorrow Morning's Constitution. Selling Will Start at Nine O'clock Friday Morning!

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

And Now, a Jack Tar Sale for Boys

BOYS' JACK TAR SUITS

—How mothers bought the Jack Tar dresses for girls, yesterday, at $1.98! Practically 900 of them were gone by two o'clock.

—Now, mothers of boys have their chance!

—Only 350 of these, all we could get. Same high quality—Jack Tar, and going at the same low price, $1.98. They're the entire close-out lines of the makers' spring and summer stocks; that, and only that, could possibly bring such fine suits for so little a price! If you saw, or heard about the values in the girls' dresses, you'll realize that this boys' suit sale means quick action, for the values are equally as great!

—They're suits for wear now, and later in fall, for you may choose three-quarter or long-sleeved styles. Think of that! Cunning little button-on styles; sometimes white dimity waists with colored trousers, or solid colored suits trimmed with small checked gingham, or white Indian head embroidery. Those suits in sizes 2 to 5 years.

—For the bigger boys—6 to 10 years—sturdy suits of kiddie cloth, chambray, lonsdale jeans; regulation styles with braided collars and silk ties. Good colors, and all white.

—Rich's, Second Floor

A Thrift Thursday Special Offer—

Living Room Set

A Fortunate Purchase Indeed—Dollars Saved at the Factory and We Pass Them on to You—Buy on the Household Club Plan—Take Ten Months to Pay.

—Davenport, arm chair and wing chair all with Marshall spring construction and covered with fine silky mohair, made of pure Angora goat hair (no sheep wool), which insures a permanent luster. Taupe only, with rose background. All wells are done in black velvet. Legs are Queen Anne style in mahogany. Outside backs covered in same material as top. Rose and taupe silk tassels. Thrift Thursday only, $269.

—Rich's, Fourth Floor

For Fall Wear—a Thrift Thursday Sale

Challis Dresses

—Just right for fall wear, before a coat is worn. Women are asking for them, every day. All of which makes this Thrift Thursday Special one of great importance; for these are dresses from our regular higher-priced stocks, reduced to $9.45 today!

—Smart full bodice styles; ribbon side ties. Good variety of colorful prints for choosing.

—In the same lot are printed chiffon, taffeta and tub silk dresses, light or dark colors. Look at the price tags for the former price. And $9.45 will buy any one of them now.

Gingham Dresses

—Imported gingham, every one of them. Regularly priced at dollars more, better get several for house wear all winter.

—Small stripes, plaids and small checks; white linen collars; elbow length sleeves, or long sleeves; all have elastic waist bands. Choose from tan and white, lavender and white, and blue and white. Sizes 16 to 38.

—Rich's, Second Floor

BEAUTY CHATS

By Edna K. Fisher

USEFUL FORMULAS.

If your hair goes dull and you want to make it bright and glossy quickly I know of nothing better than a henna shampoo. Dull hair means a condition that needs correcting and months and perhaps years of faithful work to bring it back to health—but temporary brightness can be achieved in a few hours.

Mix an ounce of powdered Egyptian henna with three ounces of powdered castle soap. Put a large, heaping tablespoonful of this mixture into a pint of very hot water, stir, and when cool enough for the scalp to take it—but still pretty hot—lather it over the head. Rub and rub, scooping up handfuls of hot water again to renew the suds. Rub 15 minutes, rinse off with hot and then cold water and dry. You'll have fluffy, clean, shiny hair, with a hint of sun in its color.

The Extra Henna shampoo is a paste made by mixing the whole ounce of powdered henna with hot water, and putting this paste on hot after the hair has been shampooed with soap and given one rinse. Three to five minutes is time enough for it to say, then it is rinsed off thoroughly and the hair dried. It makes the hair extra bright, ruddy and bright, but it does not in any way change the actual color.

If you want to work equal wonders with a tired dull complexion, rub in cleansing cream, steam five minutes, rinse with cool water and rub on the white of egg. Lie down 10 minutes to 20 minutes while it dries, wash off, rub with cold cream giving five minutes or so to massage, wipe off and give five more to an ice rub—the ice coming directly against the skin. Powder and see how clear and fresh, how pink and unwrinkled, your face is. Even your eyes will be bright from this general stimulation and the few minutes rest.

Loyal Reader—As face powders come in so many tints there should be no trouble for you to select just which one suited your complexion best.

Reader—After a person has grown to adult age, the deformity of knock-knees could hardly be corrected. Bobbie—Lemon juice when used on the skin is for bleaching. It is well to follow such applications with a cream or an oil, as any bleach neutral-izes the natural secretions in the skin for the time, often leaving it irritated. O. L. W.—The pilocarpine hair tonic, for which I am glad to mail the formula, would be excellent for your husband's hair which is beginning to thin out over the top of his head. If you send for it, include a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Dutchie—For the bobbed hair, merely curl the longest of it by using kid curlers and then when combing all the hair run the comb through, raising it from the scalp so as to fluff it all out together from the head.

Tomorrow—When You Motor. All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Governor Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland, is a candidate for re-election. If he is re-elected he will be the first governor of his state to succeed himself since the civil war.

THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1923.

Will Manage Pencil Sale
For Benefit of Child's Home

Mrs. Benjamin Ohlman is general chairman of the sale of pencils Friday, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the maintenance of the Atlanta Child's Home.

Responding to an urgent appeal for funds for the Atlanta Child's home, a large number of well known women of Atlanta will rally forth Friday loaded down with those extremely necessary and constantly used articles—pencils. And, for the entire day, they will devote their efforts to selling as many pencils as possible. Rates will be at the market price, it is announced, but if anyone, having the interests of the Child's home at heart should desire to give a bit above the ruling rate on pencils it is taken for granted that he will not be refused.

The following have been assigned to various points about the city: Miss Mary Nell Butt with Miss Dorothy Mahoney and Miss Beverly Breaker will be stationed at Cox Drug company, on corner of Alabama and Whitehall streets. Miss Jerome Tullin and Miss Louise Baldwin, with Mrs. Davis and other girls will sell pencils for the babies at the Ansley hotel. Miss Maud Callwell and Miss M. Brodman will be at Jacobs' Pharmacy on corner of Alabama and Broad streets. Miss Helen Cady, Miss Mable Beman and Miss Grace Martin will sell pencils at the Metropolitan theater and Miss Elizabeth Arnold will be located at the Forsyth building.

Mrs. J. K. Martin with her committee of ten girls will be stationed at Buckhead. Mrs. Leflary will be stationed with young ladies will take care of Decatur.

Mrs. H. S. Bartlett and committee will sell pencils at the Terminal station. Mrs. Strickland, Mrs. Joseph Mack, Mrs. J. C. Landers, Mrs. C. G. Hooper, Mrs. J. C. McKelley, Mrs. Lyman Judd, Mrs. Arthur Hardell, Miss Paula Swain, Mrs. J. P. Pherrill, under the leadership of Mrs. Murray Howard, will sell pencils in West End.

Mrs. W. A. Sanger, with 10 ladies assisting, will be stationed at corner Edgewood and Peachtree.

Mrs. N. O. Smyth and committee of young ladies will sell pencils at the Chandler building. Mrs. B. E. Culline with a group of girls will sell pencils at the Kimball house.

Mrs. Ernest Gubin with her attractive committee will be at the corner of Peachtree and Marietta streets. Mrs. J. Friday, September 7, will please call Mrs. Benjamin Ohlman, at the Atlanta National Bank building. Miss Erma Phillips and a number of young ladies will visit Emory university and other colleges in the city to sell pencils for the babies.

Miss Florence Ober, with a committee of 10 pretty girls, will be stationed at the Grant building. Miss Poole and a number of girls will sell pencils at the old city hall. Mrs. D. T. Robinson and her committee of 25 ladies will be on all prominent corners from Peachtree street station to Howard street.

Mrs. Joseph Williams and several ladies will be stationed on Ponce de Leon from Georgia terrace to Ford factory. Mrs. Millaps and her committee of ladies will take care of human park.

Mrs. Paul Turner, with eight girls, will be at the Henley building. Mrs. L. Davis with her committee of 10 young ladies will sell pencils at the Ansley hotel and Forsyth building.

Mrs. J. P. Armstrong, assisted by Mrs. Clark and a large number of others, will take care of the Piedmont hotel and vicinity on Marietta street. Mrs. Gabriel, assisted by Miss Seymour and a group of girls will be stationed on Marietta street from postoffice to Hurt building. Mrs. Schell and Mrs. W. C. Nellinger and committee will be on Mitchell street to Terminal station.

Mrs. J. C. Widner and Mrs. J. W. Stafford will take care of important places on Edgewood, Auburn, Houston and Cain streets. Mrs. Julian Chambers, with Mrs. J. W. Armstrong and committee of ladies, will be on 22nd street, Forrest avenue and part of Marietta street. Mrs. Catherine Eney and committee of ladies will be prominent corners on Pine, Highland, Boulevard and 10th avenues. Mrs. Hum and her committee will take care of Capitol district. A number of important places are still unattended in the city and any one desiring to assist the babies of the Atlanta Child's home should call Mrs. Benjamin Ohlman, Henlock 5199.

Illustrated by MARQUETTE NEALE

CHAPTER LXX.
Trapped.
"Run, Valerie!" Gloria exclaimed, hurrying back to the porch. "You must get away—I know there are some people coming—I know they're after you. Oh, Valerie—do get away! you and Larry!"

"Larry's going to stay here!" interrupted that young man, who had come out on the porch as Gloria was talking. "But you've got to go, Valerie; they can't do anything to us; we can prove our innocence. Know where you can go?"

"Yes—there's a hut over here in the fields—from here I can get to the station." Valerie's eyes were like those of a hunted animal. She glanced out over the coat and hat that Larry had brought with him from the house, and sped away through the little grove of trees that stretched out on the side of the house that was away from the road.

Valerie reached the fields, and hid from her pursuers in a little hut. Meanwhile, on the porch, Larry and Gloria faced each other. Larry smiled reassuringly at the girl, trying to conceal his anxiety at her flight. "Don't worry," he urged. "We can pull out of this all right now. They're just coming through the gate," he reported, returning to Gloria's side.

She looked up at him trustingly, and suddenly forgetting all his resolutions, Larry took her in his arms. Her head sank down on his shoulder, and he kissed her forehead gently. In that moment he felt that life never could hold anything better for him than the chance to protect her and plan for her all the time.

"They'll be here in a minute, now," he said softly; it seemed cruel that this supreme moment of their lives should be cut short in such a manner, but he did not want it disturbed by the actual arrival of the detectives who were in pursuit of Valerie. "I'll take care of things—don't be afraid!"

"I'll never be afraid of anything now," she told him, her face radiant. She felt as if she had come to the end of a long road—a road that sometimes had been pleasant to travel, but that had been peopled with groves that made it a hideous place at times. She felt a deep sense of peace, a quiet trustfulness that left no room in her mind for doubts of any kind. She had found a safe haven in Larry's arms.

Even in her great happiness she could realize, however, something of what Valerie Eaton must have felt you said—a stranger in New York," answered Gloria.

"Everybody's a stranger in New York!" commented the woman. "Where's the child?"

Gloria caught the baby up and held him close to her.

"Don't take him away!" she begged. "I mean—he's so little, and he sort of knows me now, and—oh, let me go along and just hold him, won't you?"

"Sure you're going along," one of the men cut in. "You don't think we came clear up here to find out what color your eyes are, do you?"

"You'll be held on a charge of kidnapping," the woman explained to Gloria. "But you can take care of the baby on the way back to New York if you want to."

(Copyright, 1923, for The Constitution.)

Tomorrow—A Curious Situation.

THE HOUSEHOLD
Edited by Anne Rittenhouse

If You Have Fur.
If you have any sort of fur pieces plan to make use of them this autumn and winter, for all sorts of fur trimming abound in the new wraps, frocks, suits and hats. Even evening gowns show the use of fur.

If you have any red fox or mink, by all means use it in combination with a jacket or coat.

Some of the coat frocks have long tunics edged with fur—sometimes long aprons fur-edged, that really amount to tunics in the front. Many new frocks are made with long flaring sleeves, fur-edged, and some are made tight to the wrist, where a large cuff is placed accenting the slenderness of the wrist and arm.

If you have a fur coat which you wish to have remodeled, just bear in mind that the new coats are of numerous designs and lengths. It may be that your coat isn't so out of date as you think it is. Short coats of the jacket type are smart either for sport wear or for formal afternoon.

Perhaps your old fur coat could be cut in to make long with enough left over to make fur bands for the edge of skirt or tunic to wear with the jacket.

(Copyright, 1923, The Constitution.)

OPPORTUNITY SCHOOL
HAS BIG ENROLLMENT

Enrollment in the Atlanta Opportunity school, which carries many courses under the supervision of the city school system, will set a new record this year, it was announced Wednesday by officials of the institution. The school will open in a new location at 18 Auburn avenue, where accommodations for 2,000 students are provided.

CLINIC FOR BABIES
WILL BE HELD TODAY

The John Meador Goldsmith baby clinic will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock and all mothers are urged to bring their babies, it was announced Wednesday afternoon at the city health department. A baby specialist and nurse will be in charge.

A. E. F. POSTAL MEN
HOLD BANQUET HERE

Anecdotes of war days were exchanged Tuesday night at a banquet given at the Hotel Ansley for about 30 members of the A. E. F. Postal agency, the men composing the organization having served in the overseas mail service during the late war. Members were present from all parts of the country, the delegates being here for the convention of the National Railway Mail association.

Besides P. J. Schardt, of New York, president of the group, the following men were at the banquet:

E. D. Adams, R. O. Benton, E. M. Boone, R. N. Bird, S. C. Casson, C. V. Chandler, C. G. Clark, J. C. Cleveland, B. B. Davis, H. F. Frenck, C. C. Gore, A. A. Fisher, W. W. Guder, Paul Henderson, C. M. Harvey, J. B. Hempeley, R. J. Harris, F. L. Houston, Keith Koons, J. T. Latham, Jr., I. W. Long, L. C. Macomber, J. P. Johnston, A. F. Palmquist, L. E. Rook, H. M. Robinson, C. T. Stratton and H. B. Thayer.

E. C. Chambers Dies.

Columbus, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—E. C. Chambers, 70, suffered a stroke of paralysis at the Driving park Monday while witnessing a game of baseball between two city textile mills teams, which may prove fatal.

WASHINGTON SEMINARY

Opens September 13th.

On Thursday, the 13th of September, the Washington Seminary, Atlanta, will begin its forty-fifth session with probably the largest attendance in its history.

A few vacancies still exist in the boarding department for the coming term. Applicants desiring reservations should apply at once. The registration in the day school, both in the grammar school grades, junior high and high school grades, is nearing completion and parents who have not already made arrangements for entering their daughters are requested to communicate with the principals: Professor L. D. Scott and Miss Emma Scott, as early as possible. Telephone Hemlock 0207.—(adv.)

THE BOYS' SHOP

Exclusive Outfitters for Boys—6 Whitehall

Prep Suits

Two Pairs Long Pants
Tactfully tailored to improve the young fellow's appearance, are these new fall models offered in diamond weaves, heringbones, Tweeds, Chevils and Mixtures.

$25 $27.50 $30

Others to $40

Thrifty Thursday
Dollar-Day
AT Rich's Downstairs Shoe Department

$1 1,200 PAIRS $1

"Values to $10"

Extra Salespeople and Extra Space to take care of the hundreds of customers who have been waiting for this event.

No Mail or Phone Orders Filled—All Sales Final

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

Two New Home Essentials

TWO OF THE most distinct needs of that new home of yours are hot water—on tap whenever you want it—and a convenient method of preserving the freshness of your rugs and draperies. That's why our Sales Department is offering Ruud Water Heaters, both tank and automatic, and the famous Hoover cleaner this month at especially attractive prices and on terms that are easy to meet.

The Ruud
We Offer $5

Credit for your old water heater—coal or gas, when you buy a Ruud.

No advance in prices. Come in and see how easy they are to operate.

Our terms this month on the Ruud Circulating Water Heater,

$5 Down
$3 Monthly

The Hoover
$2.25 Down

Brings the Hoover to your home.

The Hoover is not an ordinary vacuum cleaner. "It beats—as it sweeps—as it cleans."

Balance $5.50
a Month

Georgia Railway and Power Co.

Only One Day More
To Select Your Marsh Kitchen Cabinet at These Special Sale Prices. Come in Today

Marsh Konvenient Kitchen Kabinet

Porcelain Top, all oak, complete with glass jars and metal lined drawer.

$6.75 Cash

Balance
Weekly

These special terms are a departure from our usual business methods and are good for 1 day only.

$6.75 $36.75 $6.75
Cash Balance Weekly

Genuine Leather Traveling Bag

Size 18x13x9 1/2 inches. Warranted Genuine Cowhide. A beautiful Black Bag with brass catches and good locks.

$5.95
2-In. Post Simons Bed, Like Cut

$2.89
Electric Iron

$2.98
4 Qt. Aluminum Pitcher

$1.55
3-Pc. Mahogany Pullman Davenport Suite, cane backs, beautiful upholstery.

$2.98
No Mail Orders or C. O. D. Window Shades

Dark green. Size 36 inches by 6 feet. On good spring rollers. Put up for..... 59c

Finished in oak. Extends over 7 feet... $1.69

28-30 S. Forsyth St. BETWEEN HUNTER AND ALABAMA

JOHNSON'S FURNITURE

WHERE PRICES ARE LOWER

THE GUMPS—A WORD TO THE WISE

The Letter of the Contract

By Basil King

Next Week, "In the Onyx Lobby." BY CAROLYN WELLS.

(Continued from Yesterday.)
He could hear a catch in her voice that almost amounted to a sob.

"Oh, Chip, go away! I can't stand any more now."
He pressed his advantage, standing over her as she cowered in the corner, pulling down her veil. "Now! Now! Do you mean that you'll see me later—when we're in London?"

She pressed her clasped hands against her lips as if to keep back all words.
"Do you mean that, Edith?" he insisted.

Her breath came in little sobs. She spoke as of the wildest of dreams. "I'm— I'm staying at the Ritz. I shall be there for— for some days— till— till— he sends for me."
"Good. I'm at the Piccadilly. I shall come tomorrow at eleven, and if it's fine we might run down and spend the day at Maidenhead."

She caught at a straw. If she couldn't shelve him, a day in the country, in the open air, would be less dangerous than one in London. And perhaps in the end she might shelve him. At any rate, she could temporize.

"I've never been at Skindle's isn't it all bad?"
"I've never been at Skindle's," said the stranger. "But I wonder what a man like you can see in it— to remain here so long?"

Chip was startled, but he managed to say: "It isn't that I see anything in particular. I'm—"
"Waiting?"

"No; resting," Chip answered.
"Ah, it's certainly a good place for resting." Then, after a pause: "You're married?"

"I've a wife and little boy in New York."
"Ah!" There was no emphasis on this exclamation. "A happy marriage must be a great safeguard."

"There was a faint laugh. "Against everything from which a married man needs protection—pursuing another man's wife, for instance. A man who's happily married doesn't do that."

There was no aggression in the tone, and yet Chip felt a curious chill. "Who was this man, and what the devil was he driving at? 'Are there any happy marriages?'—permanently happy, that is?" asked Walker.

"I don't know, because I'm not happily married," the stranger replied. "I married a lady who had divorced her husband. In divorce there are some dangerous risks. It's a dangerous risk for a man to divorce his wife. It's a more dangerous risk for a woman to divorce her husband. But to marry a divorced husband or a divorced wife is the most dangerous risk of all."

Chip's voice was quick and dry. "May I ask, sir, on what you base your opinion?"
"I'm chiefly on the principle that no matter how successfully the deed is buried, they may come back as ghosts."

"Oh, I don't know. There—there seemed to be reasons."
"What is he like?" she found the time to ask.

"Oh, I don't know," she said again, pensively. "It isn't so easy for a woman to be— to be drifting about— especially with two children."
"But why should you have drifted about, when you knew that at a sign from you—"

"If I had gone back to you I should have been sorry."
"You would have considered it a weakness—a surrender—"

She nodded. "Something like that."
"And you really had stopped—caring anything about me?"

"It wasn't that so much as—so much as that I couldn't get over my resentment." She seemed to have found the explanatory word. "What- ever compromise I thought of, that resentment against you for— for doing what you did—blocked the way. If I'd gone back I should have taken it with me."

"But you don't suffer from it now?"
"No; after I married—it left me. It was as if old scores were wiped out."

"You'd got even!"
Her eyes became appealing. "Oh, what's the good of talking it now?"
"Because you haven't told me what I asked—why you married."

She turned the query against himself. "Why did you?"
"I didn't till after you did. I wouldn't have done it then if—if it hadn't been so well to put it plainly, so damned lonely."

She gave him a smile that stabbed him. "Well, then? Doesn't that answer your question?"
He thought it did, and for a while they listened to the blackbird's song in silence. It was their last talk. Next morning she left for Paris. And so he went to Berna. He hadn't meant to go there when he said goodbye to her. He had not precisely made up his mind that they were parting for good, but he was too stunned to forecast the future. He was stunned and alone. If it hadn't been for the bit of business that had brought him to London he would have had courage enough to get through the days.

experience, and judgment—Somebody of respect.
That, perhaps, was the secret of Walker's curiosity—that he respected him. He would have liked to talk to him—precisely to ask his advice, but to lay before some of the difficulties that were inchoate in his soul.

Glancing casually over his left shoulder as he walked on the hotel terrace one afternoon he became aware that among people at the edge of the terrace a stranger was standing. It was an opportunity not to be missed.

"Oh, c'est merveilleux, n'est-ce pas, monsieur?"
The words were banal, but they would serve to break the ice.

"Yes; and I've never seen the view more beautiful than today; but perhaps that's because I've seen it so many times."
Chip was disappointed to be answered in English, and especially in the English of an American. It brought the man too near for confidence. They might easily find themselves involved in a host of common acquaintances.

But something in the composure of speaking imposed this new acquaintance on him as a superior. Instinctively he said "sir" to him. Within a few minutes they found themselves seated on one of the benches. The talk was of the conference.

"It's an attractive little town," said the stranger. "But I wonder what a man like you can see in it— to remain here so long?"
Chip was startled, but he managed to say: "It isn't that I see anything in particular. I'm—"

"Waiting?"
"No; resting," Chip answered.
"Ah, it's certainly a good place for resting." Then, after a pause: "You're married?"

"I've a wife and little boy in New York."
"Ah!" There was no emphasis on this exclamation. "A happy marriage must be a great safeguard."

"There was a faint laugh. "Against everything from which a married man needs protection—pursuing another man's wife, for instance. A man who's happily married doesn't do that."

There was no aggression in the tone, and yet Chip felt a curious chill. "Who was this man, and what the devil was he driving at? 'Are there any happy marriages?'—permanently happy, that is?" asked Walker.

"I don't know, because I'm not happily married," the stranger replied. "I married a lady who had divorced her husband. In divorce there are some dangerous risks. It's a dangerous risk for a man to divorce his wife. It's a more dangerous risk for a woman to divorce her husband. But to marry a divorced husband or a divorced wife is the most dangerous risk of all."

Chip's voice was quick and dry. "May I ask, sir, on what you base your opinion?"
"I'm chiefly on the principle that no matter how successfully the deed is buried, they may come back as ghosts."

"Oh, I don't know. There—there seemed to be reasons."
"What is he like?" she found the time to ask.

"Oh, I don't know," she said again, pensively. "It isn't so easy for a woman to be— to be drifting about— especially with two children."
"But why should you have drifted about, when you knew that at a sign from you—"

"If I had gone back to you I should have been sorry."
"You would have considered it a weakness—a surrender—"

She nodded. "Something like that."
"And you really had stopped—caring anything about me?"

"It wasn't that so much as—so much as that I couldn't get over my resentment." She seemed to have found the explanatory word. "What- ever compromise I thought of, that resentment against you for— for doing what you did—blocked the way. If I'd gone back I should have taken it with me."

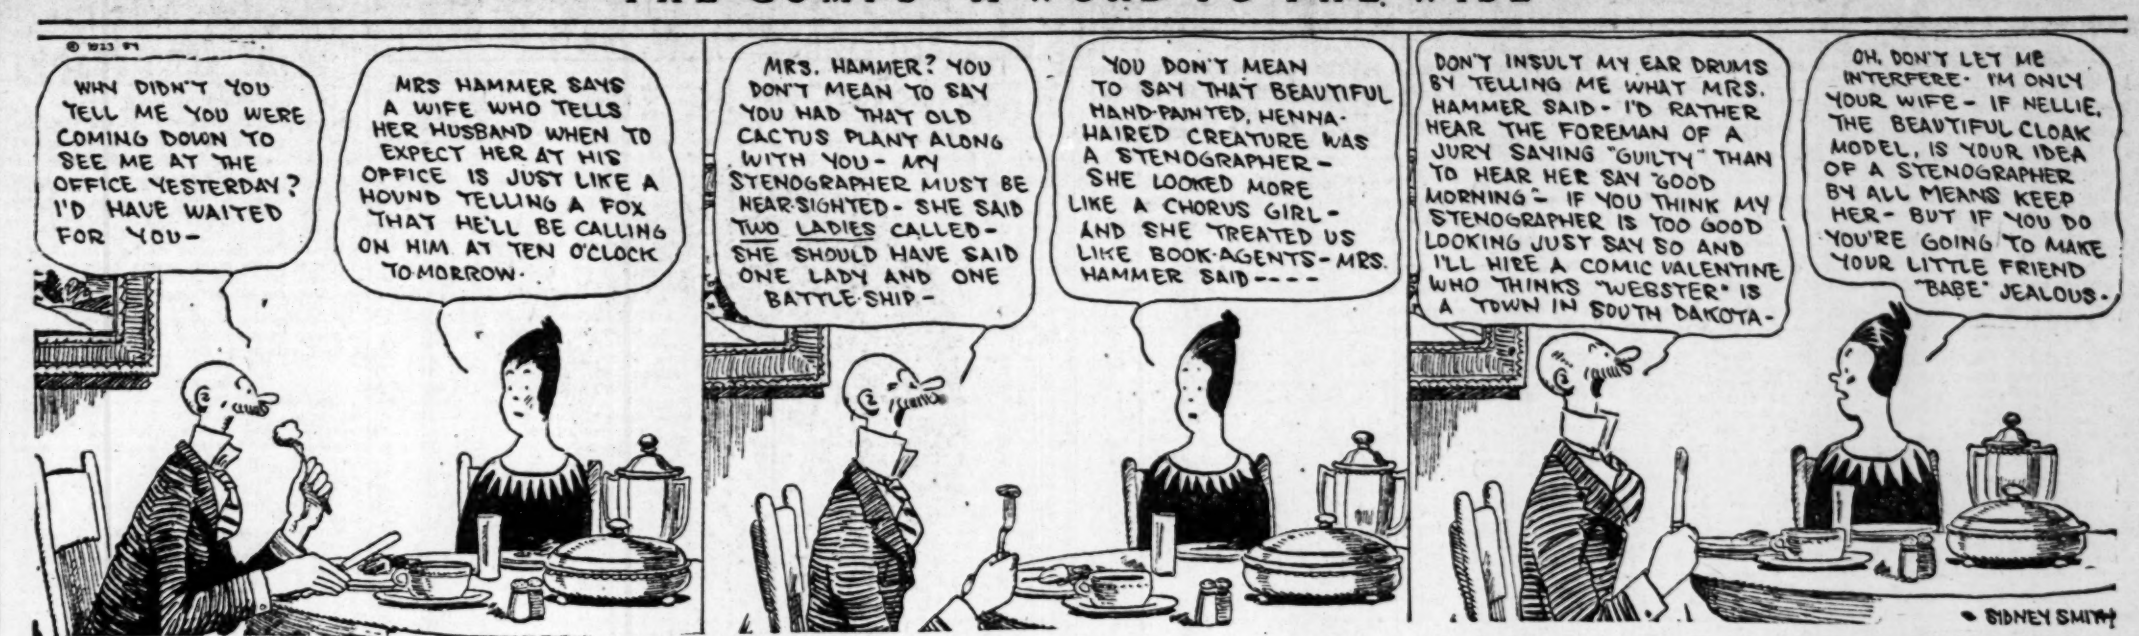

"But you don't suffer from it now?"
"No; after I married—it left me. It was as if old scores were wiped out."

"You'd got even!"
Her eyes became appealing. "Oh, what's the good of talking it now?"
"Because you haven't told me what I asked—why you married."

She turned the query against himself. "Why did you?"
"I didn't till after you did. I wouldn't have done it then if—if it hadn't been so well to put it plainly, so damned lonely."

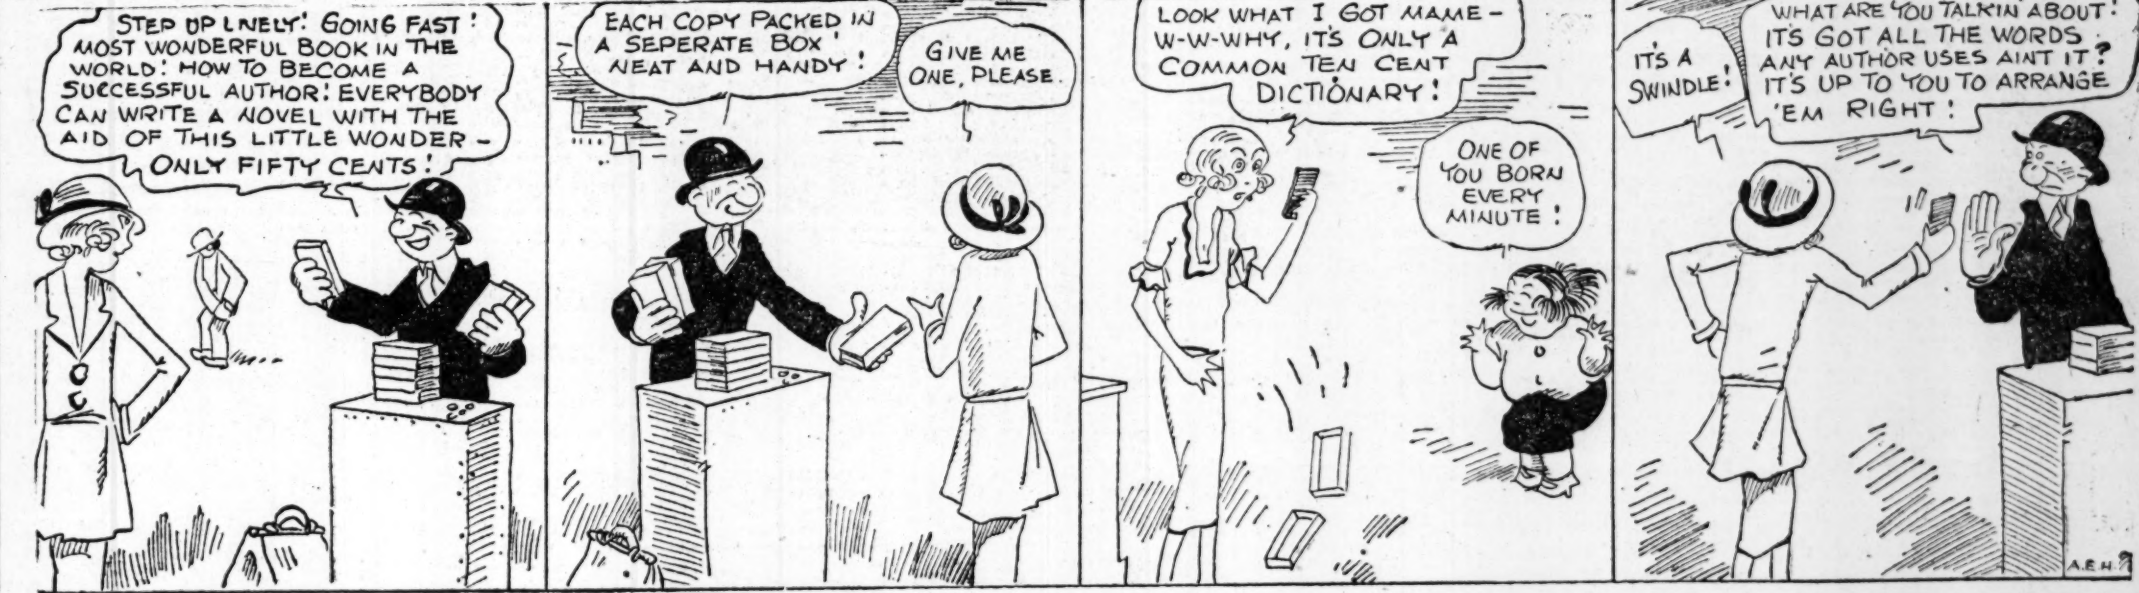

She gave him a smile that stabbed him. "Well, then? Doesn't that answer your question?"
He thought it did, and for a while they listened to the blackbird's song in silence. It was their last talk. Next morning she left for Paris. And so he went to Berna. He hadn't meant to go there when he said goodbye to her. He had not precisely made up his mind that they were parting for good, but he was too stunned to forecast the future. He was stunned and alone. If it hadn't been for the bit of business that had brought him to London he would have had courage enough to get through the days.

But, the business coming to an end, he was stranded. There was nothing to do but go back to his wife and child whose existence he never remembered except with a pang of self-reproach. He meant to go back to them—but not yet. It was too soon. Edith was too much with him. The fact that her physical presence was withdrawn made her spiritually the more pervasive. The afterglow of their days together couldn't fade otherwise than slowly, like light when the sun goes down.

fair. You're here; and, since you are, I'd rather—"
"I'd rather you didn't hurry away."
Questions rose to Chip's lips and died there. Was Edith in Berna? Had she seen him? Was she keeping out of his way? Was she being kept out of his way? Was she suffering? Was it through her that he had been recognized?
The fact that he had been recognized brought with it a kind of humiliation. The reference to the long arm of coincidence was stinging. Because it was so he tried to muster his dignity.
"I've no intention of hurrying away," he began; "but—"
"If you like, I'll put it this way," the measured voice broke in, courteously. "If you have time to wait a little longer I should be glad if you'd do it."
"Would there be any point to that?"
"I think you might trust me not to make the request if there were not." He added presently: "It's a wise policy to let sleeping dogs lie; but when they've once been roused, they've got to be quieted."
"Quieted—how?"
"I can't tell you that as yet. I may have some vague idea concerning the process; I've none at all as to the result."
Chip was not sure that the stranger said good night. He knew he moved away. He watched him as, with stately, unhesitating step, he walked down the promenade, the liveries cape and soft felt hat silhouetted in the moonlight.
For the next 48 hours Walker hung about the hotel like a culprit. He would have sacrificed even a glimpse of Edith to feel free to go away.
He couldn't go away while the other man's plans remained enigmatical; but he wished he hadn't come. He felt his position undignified, grotesque, like that of a boy detected in some bit of silly daring.
Two days later they met again on the terrace of the Kleine Schanze. The stranger had walked directly up to Chip to say:
"The lady to whom we were referring the other night—"
But Chip was still on his guard. "Did I refer to a lady?"
"Perhaps not. But I did. And that lady is ill. You may be interested to know it. She was ill when she arrived in Paris from London ten days ago."
"Then she's here."
"She's here. That's why I'm taking your time in asking you to remain."
Chip forced the next question with some difficulty: "Does she—does she want to— to see me?"
"She hasn't said so."
"Has she—said anything about me at all?"
"That, I think, I must leave you to learn later. But I should like you to know at once that I'm not keeping you here without a motive."
The stately figure moved on, leaving Chip to guess blindly at the possibilities in store.
CHAPTER XXIX.
More days passed—nearly a week.

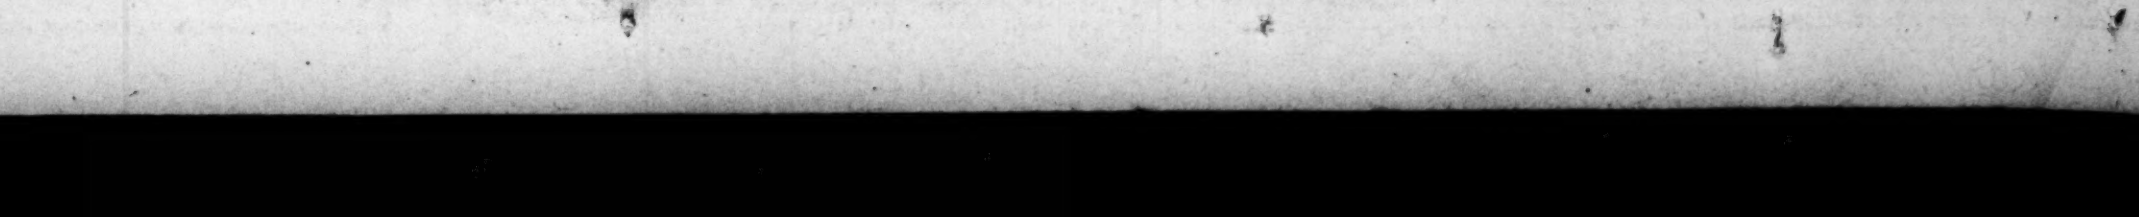

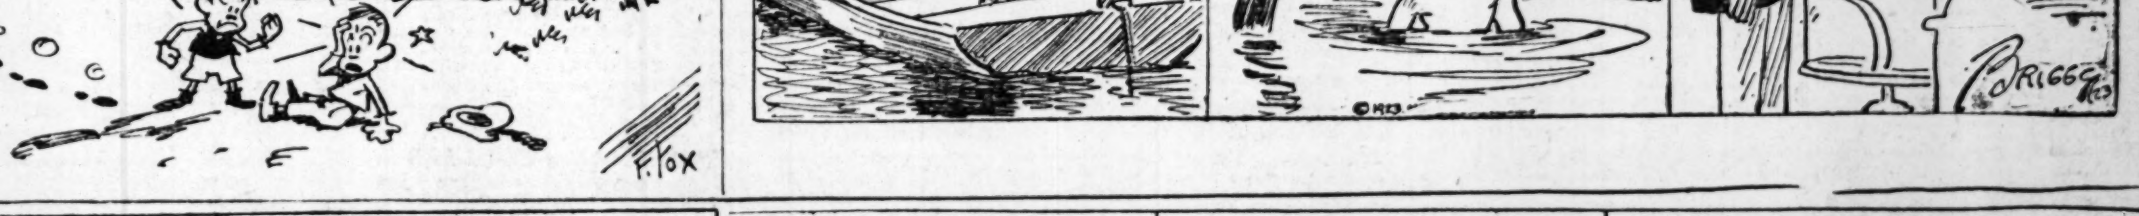

SOMEBODY'S STENOG—It's All There

In Condition to Fight

How to Start the Vacation Wrong

By Briggs

Only Complete
Closing ReportsNew High for Movement
Seen in Cotton Wednesday

	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev. Close
Oct. 1	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 2	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 3	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 4	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 5	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 6	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 7	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 8	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 9	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 10	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50

	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev. Close
Oct. 1	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 2	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 3	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 4	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 5	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 6	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 7	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 8	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 9	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 10	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50

New York, September 5.—The reaction of yesterday was not only recovered but prices made new high ground for the movement in the cotton market today. December contracts which had sold off to 24.61c yesterday under the shock of the Japanese disaster, advanced to 25.51c or 89 points net higher and the highest prices touched since the publication of the government's crop report was being resumed. December closed at 25.48c with the general market closing firm at an advance of 81 to 94 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 10 to 22 points on relatively firm cables, reports of wet weather in the south and trade buying. There was some further scattering liquidation, but it appeared to be readily absorbed and it looked very much as if the buying movement started by last week's crop report was being resumed. The advance was momentarily checked by rather a less bullish weekly report from the weather bureau than expected, but trade buying continued with the market showing increasing strength and activity during the early afternoon on reports that spinners were fixing prices and that the spot market in the southwest was firmer. These features combined with a more optimistic view of the Japanese situation and a belief that the destruction of both raw cotton and finished goods in the disaster would lead to a demand for replacements, no doubt stimulated by recent sales. Commission house buying also became more active as prices worked higher, and steps also were uncovered. October closed at 25.25c and November at 25.25c or 88 points net higher, and the market closed within a few points of the best. The trading noted during the day was accompanied by reports that spinners had bought considerable cotton on basis during the spring and summer, and were now fixing prices and were the prospect for another small crop. Exports today 3,100, making 3,400, 522 so far this season. Port receipts 19,000. United States port stocks 219,214.

SPOTS IN NEW YORK.
AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, August 5.—Prices were higher from the opening in the cotton market today and highest prices were made in the closing sales when October ranged from 24.84c to 24.88c a pound and the list stood at net gains of 80 to 85 points. Inside prices on the close showed net gains on the day of 70 to 82 points. For this advance better accounts from the spot markets of the south were mainly responsible and highest prices of the day followed rumors, extensively circulated in private telegrams, that Japanese interests were among the most prominent spot buyers in the western markets and were also buyers of contracts in a large way. Early gains of 23 to 25 points were induced by favorable cable news and reports from the government. More or less buying followed the receipt of the Japanese cablegrams, or, in other words, that the earthquake had not destroyed over 750,000 spindles and that the principal spinning districts were not affected. A little later, telegrams came from the Japanese government claiming that spot transactions were being put through at the highest basis of the season. The weekly crop reports were considered fully as unfavorable as expected, especially in the mention of the effect of too much rain in Texas. Rains over night in Texas increased bullish sentiment in this direction.

SPOTS IN NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, September 5.—Spot cotton steady, 50 points higher. Sales on the spot 120; to arrive 700. Low middling 24.00c; middling 25.00c; good middling 25.50c. Receipts 3,140; stock 45,969.

COTTON STATEMENT.

New Orleans, September 5.—Receipts: 14,157; exports, 8,000; sales, 820; stock, 45,969.

CITIZENS &amp; SOUTHERN BANK, ATLANTA, TRUSTEE

ATLANTA-BILTMORE HOTEL COMPANY
First Mortgage 7% Bonds
Dated Sept. 1, 1923 Due Serially 1925 to 1943

Interest March and September 1st payable in New York, Atlanta, Savannah, Macon or Augusta. Registrable at Atlanta, 2% Federal Income Tax paid. Denomination $1,000, $500 and $100. Callable as a whole at 105. Last maturity callable in lots of $100,000, at 105.

SECURITY: This issue will be a direct obligation of the Atlanta-Biltmore Hotel Company and secured by a direct closed first mortgage on the entire property, consisting of land, buildings, furnishings and equipment, value of which is conservatively estimated at $6,500,000. In addition the bonds bear the unconditional guaranty both as to principal and interest of Mr. William Candler, whose personal financial statement is on file with the Trustee at all times.

EARNINGS: Mr. Bowman has conservatively estimated the net earnings for bond interest after all charges including adequate depreciation of over $675,000 per annum, or over three times maximum bond interest and over twice combined interest charges and maturity requirements.

We Recommend these Bonds for Investment
PRICE 120 AND INTEREST TO YIELD 7%

Citizens and Southern Company
MARQUETTE AT BROAD
ATLANTA

COTTON, STOKES, BONDS, MEATS, GRAIN, LIVE STOCK
Upward Stock Movement
Is Resumed on Wednesday

RANGE IN NEW YORK COTTON.

	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev. Close
Oct. 1	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 2	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 3	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 4	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 5	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 6	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 7	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 8	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 9	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 10	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50

RANGE IN NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev. Close
Oct. 1	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 2	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 3	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 4	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 5	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 6	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 7	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 8	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 9	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50
Oct. 10	24.50	24.55	24.45	24.50	24.50

COTTON STATEMENT.

New Orleans, September 5.—Receipts: 14,157; exports, 8,000; sales, 820; stock, 45,969.

CITIZENS &amp; SOUTHERN BANK, ATLANTA, TRUSTEE

ATLANTA-BILTMORE HOTEL COMPANY
First Mortgage 7% Bonds
Dated Sept. 1, 1923 Due Serially 1925 to 1943

Interest March and September 1st payable in New York, Atlanta, Savannah, Macon or Augusta. Registrable at Atlanta, 2% Federal Income Tax paid. Denomination $1,000, $500 and $100. Callable as a whole at 105. Last maturity callable in lots of $100,000, at 105.

SECURITY: This issue will be a direct obligation of the Atlanta-Biltmore Hotel Company and secured by a direct closed first mortgage on the entire property, consisting of land, buildings, furnishings and equipment, value of which is conservatively estimated at $6,500,000. In addition the bonds bear the unconditional guaranty both as to principal and interest of Mr. William Candler, whose personal financial statement is on file with the Trustee at all times.

EARNINGS: Mr. Bowman has conservatively estimated the net earnings for bond interest after all charges including adequate depreciation of over $675,000 per annum, or over three times maximum bond interest and over twice combined interest charges and maturity requirements.

We Recommend these Bonds for Investment
PRICE 120 AND INTEREST TO YIELD 7%

Citizens and Southern Company
MARQUETTE AT BROAD
ATLANTA

DAILY QUOTATIONS
ON LOCAL STOCKS

Life Co., 8 pct. pr	103
Life Co., common	162	175
Life Southern Bank	292	257 1/4
Life pr	94	95 1/2
Life & Trust Co.	175
National Bank	128	132
Railway & P com.	44	40
Railway & P S.
Life pr	103	107
Life Express com.	94	98
Life Railroad com.	89	101
Life Securities	7 1/2	9 1/4
National Bank	125	118
Railway & Elect.		150
Railway & Elect. pr	114	116
Ry & Elect. pr		85
Bank & Trust Co.
Georgia	285	290

Senioa High to Open.

Senioa, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—The Senioa High school building has just been remodeled, and is now ready for the opening of school Monday, September 10. The entire faculty has been chosen, with J. D. Overstreet, superintendent, and Mrs. W. D. Gibson, principal. The approaching season promises to be one of the best in the history of the school.

Is Your Name Printed Here?

(A new name every morning. Watch for yours.)

THE BRITLING CAFETERIA CO. Invites

Dr. F. E. Vander Veer

Captain Yaarab Patrol
And two friends of his own selection to be his guests for one meal within five days.

Please detach this coupon and present to Cashier with your meal checks. Good at either Britling, 90 N. Pryor street, or Peachtree Arcade building.

Breakfast Luncheon Supper

Are You Married?

More than one-half of our students last year were married people. They received personal instruction from regular Georgia Tech instructors and selected business men that helped them to a greater efficiency and earning power.

Courses are practical and of collegiate grade. They capitalize your spare time and make it an investment for your future welfare and success.

EVENING CLASSES*Georgia School of Tech

FOR MEN and WOMEN

Classes from 6:45 p. m. to 8:45 p. m. at 18 Auburn Avenue

For further information

Mail

Coupon

Today

of telephone

J. M. Walters,

Dean,

Hemlock 4887

Check courses in which you are interested:

..... Accounting ..... Problems ..... Advertising ..... Salesmanship

..... Auditing ..... Income Tax ..... Bookkeeping ..... Journalism

..... Investments ..... Corporation Law

Name ..... (C-5)

Firm .....

Address .....

Another Cruise AROUND THE WORLD on the "SAMARIA"

To the world's most famous countries—with their wonders and splendors—the picturesque Mediterranean borderlands, including Egypt, four weeks in India, Burma, Java, Philippines, South and North China, Japan during Cherry Blossom time, Hawaii, San Francisco, Panama, etc. By specially chartered new Cunarder "SAMARIA," a ship made famous during our 1923 Golden Jubilee Cruise. Sailing eastward in the path of spring. Comfort, luxury, leisure—plus the services of our unique chain of permanent offices all along the route. Cruise limited to 400 guests.

THOS. COOK & SON

245 Broadway NEW YORK

or Local Steamship Agents

To Europe in Comfort and Luxury

From a covered pier at New York to a covered pier at Havre. Train for Paris waiting at dock—travel without trouble. Six days to England. Unsurpassed accommodations, on the fast express liners Paris and France, and internationally famous cuisine. Leisurely crossings, big, comfortable one class liners. Attractive $120 rates. Minimum cabin fare $120.

French Line

Local French Line Agents or Company's Office

724 Common St., New Orleans

LOEW'S

ATLANTA'S FAVORITE THEATER

TODAY—FRIDAY—SATURDAY

VAUDEVILLE 8:30, 7:00, 9:00 P. M.

PICTURES 2:00, 4:30, 8:00, 10:00 P. M.

Grace Fennimore Cooper and Company

"Premiere Dances"

In Novel and Pantomime Dances

Eddie Merrigan

and Jess Howard

In the "Laugh Cures"

Sunshine and Co.

In a Novelty.

Murray and Lane

Song and Dances

Cook and Neff

"Hokumology, Songs and Comedy"

KEITH VODVIL

FORSYTH

THUR.—FRI.—SAT.

BILLIE SHAW & CO.

OF 10

In Vaudeville's Smartest Revue

of Youthful Talent With

JOSEPHINE LA VOIE, LESTER LANE & BARRIE OLIVER

ETHEL McDONOUGH

"Mildly's Busy Day"

MILLER & ROTHROCK

"Blackface Funsters"

JOE WHITEHEAD

"Squirrel Food"

BILL & GENIEVE

"Comedy Cycle Oddity"

RIALTO

Madge Kennedy and Monte Blue

"THE PURPLE HIGHWAY"

It's a Paramount

Added Attraction Will Be Dancing

"THE ARGENTINE TANGO"

AMUSEMENTS

THEATERS : : MOVIES

Lyric Theater: All week. Smash play in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

"Twin Beds."

(At the Lyric.)

"Twin Beds" is keeping big audiences in continual laughter at the Lyric theater this week with a perfect presentation by the Forsyth players. It is a racy farce comedy with two of its acts laid in an apartment house bedroom. The lines are loaded with explosive humor and the action is a rapid succession of screamingly funny scenes.

The plot revolves around the domestic mishaps of a jealous husband with a wife who is nice to everyone and too nice to a transcontinental Italian tenor who believes himself irresistible to womankind and who likes his liquor strong.

B. F. Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

With a complete change of program for the remaining three days of the week, the Forsyth theater, home of Keith vaudeville, is presenting five splendid acts with petite Billie Shaw, acclaimed the "most beautiful girl in America," and her own company of dancers and singers as the leading number.

In many previous appearances in Atlanta Miss Shaw has made herself favorably known to vaudeville devotees. Her new act, called by critics "vaudeville's smartest revue," which includes many dancing beauties of the American stage, has received wide applause for its novelty and smartness.

In addition to the revue, Miller and Rothrock, billed as "Blues" in "Black and White" provide an act of rollicking humor which is made especially pleasing in the offering of several latest song hits. "Mildly's Busy Day," a satire on the eternal feminine, is the act of the inimitable Ethel MacDonough, who in her own droll way pokes fun at the idiosyncrasies of womankind.

Joe Whitehead, in "Squirrel Food" has a real collection of bright chatter, singing and dancing, and as a comedian he is thoroughly deserving of the appellation. Bill and Genevieve, also comedians, present an oddity in cycling as the closing number.

Loew Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)

One of vaudeville's brightest stars, Grace Fennimore Cooper, premier danseuse, supported by an able company of dancers, will bring the latest pantomime dances to Atlanta the

LYRIC

COOLEST SPOT IN TOWN

ALL THIS WEEK

FORSYTH PLAYERS

IN

The Laughing Hit of the Year

"TWIN BEDS"

By MARGARET MAYO

A Real Comedy Delight

MATINEES TODAY AND SATURDAY

Matinees at 2:30—Nights at 8:30

Popular Prices

Reserve Your Seats Now

Phone IVY 0670 and 0671

NEXT WEEK

Madge Kennedy's Greatest Hit

"CORNERED"

2 Years at the Astor Theater, New York

Metropolitan Theater: All week. "Three Wise Fools," and other screen features.

Rialto Theater: All week. Madge Kennedy in "The Purple Highway," and other screen features.

Alamo No. 2: Today, Thomas Meighan in "Manila," and other screen features.

The Alpha Theater: Today, Roy Stewart in "The Love Bird," and a comedy.

The Teller Theater: Today and Thursday, "The Purple Highway," and other screen features.

Loew's Grand: Today, Roy Stewart in "The Love Bird," and a comedy.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

Loew's Grand: (Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Forsyth Theater: (Keith vaudeville). See advertising for program.

Howard Theater: All week. "Hollywood" and other screen features.

Lyric Theater: All week. "Smash play" in "Twin Beds."

MAN DIES SUDDENLY

AT MASONIC MEET

Reidsville, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—George B. Mincey, 52, of Ogeechee, died suddenly today in Reidsville while attending the Masonic lodge at the residence of his son, John W. Mincey, and a brother were with him.

Mr. Mincey is survived by his widow and eight children; by father, John L. Mincey, of Ogeechee, and seven brothers and three sisters.

WOMAN DOLLS UP

TO COMMIT SUICIDE

Chicago, September 5.—Mrs. Margaret Lewis Saxton, Wednesday took a perfume bath, loused pink silk undergarments and a blue serge kimono and cap, and then committed suicide by poison.

The police believe that Mrs. Saxton, an accomplished musician, was actuated by domestic troubles.

Mrs. Thompson Dies.

Sylvania, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. John R. Thompson died at her home near Friendship in this county yesterday after a brief illness from acute indigestion. She was about 65 years of age, and leaves a husband and seven children. The body was interred this morning in the cemetery at Friendship church, the funeral services being conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Moore, assisted by Revs. H. J. Arnett and E. W. Selman.

LODGE NOTICES

Regular meeting of the Masons of the city will be held at